

Circleville School Board To Make Contract Decision

AN EDITORIAL

The Circleville Board of Education meets tonight. On the agenda is the renewal of the contract of Fritz Jacobs, superintendent of city schools.

There is a very vocal group of Circleville School District residents seeking to influence the board not to renew his contract at this time.

We urge the members of the board not to be guided by emotions or personality conflicts but by their good judgement in this matter. The superintendent must not only be an educator but also the administrator of an operation involving many, many thousands of the taxpayers' dollars.

Under Mr. Jacobs' administration, Circleville has one of the finest physical complexes in the state. Since he came here over 12 years ago, Circleville High School has been built, Nicholas Drive has been built, High Street has been built, additions have been completed at South Court, Atwater, Mound Street Elementaries.

A planned upgrading of the junior high school building is underway.

The Circleville teaching staff includes many outstanding educators and Circleville students have been a credit to the community.

Mr. Jacobs, once he has reached a decision, is not likely to change his mind, no matter how much influence or pressure is brought to bear. He is strong-willed and does not hesitate to express his opinions in a manner that leaves no uncertainty in the minds of those to whom he is speaking.

We urge the board to consider the progress the city schools have made during the past 12 years and Mr. Jacobs' role in this progress. The board is the elected representative of the people. While the members must listen to the voice of the people, they must also act to provide the community with the best schools, administrators and educators possible with the funds the taxpayers have voted. Whatever their decision, we shall respect it.

NEVER FORGOTTEN—The normally beautiful Forest Cemetery in Circleville is made ready for Memorial Day through the joint efforts of families of servicemen, relatives of others buried there, the regular maintenance crew, and members of Gardenwood Club. Shown planting geraniums at the entrance are club members Mrs. Tom Churchill, on the left, and Mrs. William Myers.

Services, Parade Honor Veterans

Howard Reeser is grand marshal for Circleville's Memorial Day parade and ceremonies that will be held Monday morning.

The American Legion will hold a service at 9 a.m. at the High St. Cemetery. Groups will form at Memorial Hall for the 9:30 a.m. parade that will proceed west on Main St. to Court St. and north on Court to Forest Cemetery.

Order of march for the parade is city police, the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, Ohio State Highway Patrol, American Legion Color Guard, VFW Color Guard, National Guard Firing Squad, Circleville Junior High School Band, VFW and American Legion members, autos for World War I and disabled veterans, VFW and American Legion auxiliary members, the Pickaway County YMCA Baton Drill Team, Girl Scouts and Brownies, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts, Circleville Area Community Cadets, Logan Elm Marching Band, and the Logan Elm High School Band.

Both school bands will present the National Anthem to open the program at Soldiers Glen and other musical selections during the program.

Wallace Higgins will give the Memorial Day address.

The firing squad, officers, committee, and public will move to the Soldiers Burial Lot for services and a salute to the dead followed by taps.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. R. L. Heimbach.

Master of Ceremonies at Soldiers Glen will be James P. Shea. Program directors are Harold Hoffman and Mac Schumm. Edgar Haynes is in charge of grave flagging.

Activities are sponsored by trustees of the Monumental Assoc.

Services Set For Ohio Newsman

LOGAN, Ohio (AP) — Funeral services are scheduled here Friday for Robert S. Rochester, editor of the Washington Court House Record-Herald for 18 years.

Rochester, a Hocking County native, died of an apparent heart attack Wednesday at Fayette Memorial Hospital. He was 65.

Services are set for 1 p.m. Friday at the Roberts Funeral Home in Logan, with burial in the Oak Grove Cemetery.

Rochester graduated from Logan High School and attended Ohio State University. He was an Ohio University graduate.

He began his long career in journalism in 1931 at Logan. He had worked his way up to general manager of the Logan Daily News when he left in 1944 to join the staff of the St. Petersburg (Fla.) Evening Independent. Rochester moved back to Ohio in 1946 to go to work for the Lima Daily News, where he became managing editor in 1954.

Rochester joined the Record Herald in 1956 as editor.

He pursued a musical interest early in life, and played saxophone and clarinet in a band formed by Sammy Kaye, then a fellow Ohio University student.

Nixon Angers Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's refusal to comply with a House Judiciary Committee subpoena for 11 Watergate tapes is providing new grounds for impeachment in the view of some members.

"It means the cover-up continues," said Rep. George Danielson, D-Calif., after Nixon notified the committee Wednesday he would not comply with the subpoena or any other it issues for Watergate material.

"It's hurting him with the committee," said Rep. Tom Railsback, R-Ill., one of a number of Republicans who expressed disappointment at Nixon's action.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., calling Nixon's refusal "a very grave matter," scheduled a committee meeting for next week to deal with it.

There was some talk of citing Nixon for contempt of Congress and of seeking court enforcement of the subpoena, but a majority appeared to favor taking the President's action into account when considering whether he should be impeached.

The committee staff has advised that it is proper to infer that anyone possessing and refusing to provide subpoenaed evidence is withholding material that could be incriminating.

In a letter to Rodino saying he would not produce the tapes, Nixon said the committee's request, and others it is getting ready to make, amount to "a massive invasion into the confidentiality of presidential conversations."

"More fundamentally, continuing ad infinitum the process of yielding up additional conversations in response to an endless series of demands would fatally weaken this office, not only in this administration but for future presidencies as well," Nixon added.

Rodino rejected Nixon's argument, saying the committee's requests were narrowly drawn and related specifically to the impeachment inquiry.

"There is no way the presidency will be weakened by the constitutional process we are conducting. The republic will be strengthened."

Rodino said the committee will issue more subpoenas if it decides the White House is withholding evidence it needs. The next one likely will deal with the dairy funds and ITT controversies.

The committee has requested tapes of 66 conversations in these two areas and Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, told it Wednesday it would get only one partial transcript.

The committee delved deeper into the crucial March 21, 1973, stage of the Watergate cover-up Wednesday, adding secret grand jury evidence to its tapes of Nixon's conversations dealing with hush money payments. In a report accompanying indictments returned against seven former White House and Nixon re-election campaign aides March 1, the Watergate grand jury said a $75,000 payment was made to the lawyer for convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt Jr. the night of March 21.

In a taped conversation earlier that day, Nixon appeared to be ordering his former counsel, John W. Dean III, to make the payment.

There is some dispute as to whether the $75,000 actually was paid that night, but several committee members said the evidence presented Wednesday made it clear that it was.

The committee also heard a tape of a March 22 conversation in which Nixon, Dean, former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and former White House aides John D. Ehrlichman and H.R. Haldeman discussed various means of dealing with the upcoming Senate Watergate hearings.

The Boston Globe reported today it had learned from a source who had heard the White House tape that during the March 22 conversation, Nixon said: "Even up to this point, the whole theory has been containment, as you know, John."

Nixon has said he did not learn of any Watergate coverup until March 21, 1973.

Rep. Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., said she found the tape "very significant," but did not go into detail. Rep. Robert Drinan, D-Mass., said "the whole tone of the conversation showed they were determined not to let it (the cover-up of White House involvement in Watergate) get out."

Hospital Board Discusses Building Project Progress

A report to the Berger Hospital Board of Governors at its regular meeting Wednesday night gave an insight to the progress of the new building addition. Hospital Administrator John Reid said the trees in the area where construction will begin have been taken out and the storage building on the site had been leveled.

Reid also told the board closing on the sale of the bonds would be done in Toledo on Friday. A trustee will be elected by the firm who buys the most bonds. In all probability, the firm will be a reserve bank in one of Ohio's larger cities.

The financial report presented to the board showed an increase in expenses to date over the figure at the same time last year. Collection of bills showed an increase for April and occupancy is running at 80 per cent over last year's 82 per cent. The report also showed an increase in newborns and an increase in admissions. The average length of hospital stay was shown to be shorter than a year ago.

Due to the rise in the minimum wage, the company that had been doing the laundry had to break the contract and bids were submitted by other firms. Barnhill's Cleaners had submitted the lowest and best bid and the board discussed any possibilities of a conflict of interest since Barnhill is also the president of the Board of Governors.

Two attorneys in the Attorney General's office have advised Reid no problems were foreseen. A Columbus cleaners had submitted a bid as low as Barnhill's but the board felt a local firm could be of better service by delivering every day.

The board had previously authorized Reid to seek information on the possibility of securing a director of nursing to which effect he reported back at the meeting. He said Ernst and Ernst had conducted a survey in Southern Ohio and found the low salary paid to a person holding that position was $9,064 and the high, $20,568.

By taking the mean of all the salaries paid by hospitals near the size of Berger, the board expects to have to pay $12-15,000 for a qualified person. Several members of the board expressed the need to obtain someone with experience in the field of directorship.

Discussion was held concerning the availability of a qualified person and Reid informed the board such persons are hard to get. The board proposed he check with the Ohio State University graduate school and possibly place an advertisement in a professional magazine. In 1966 the director of nursing was paid $9,000 as a starting salary.

Reid was authorized by the board to begin accepting applications to see what salary demands would be required by applicants seeking the position. He asked the physicians on the board to help with the screening when he was ready to hire.

While on the subject of salaries, the board voted unanimously to increase the salary paid to the administrator. One of the board members said he thought Reid should at least be paid the average salary paid in the state to administrators of hospitals the size of Berger.

A letter from the legal counsel representative on bonds suggested to the board that it appoint a project supervisor throughout the building program. Reid was appointed to that position.

Project reports will be submitted by the architect every two weeks to the board when construction of the new facility begins. These reports will include percentage of completion and pay out schedules. The board delegated the authority of minor change orders to Henry Schroeder and his building committee.

Fred Fissell who lives near the hospital and is a retired inspector of hospital construction has offered his services to the board. The board was pleased by the interest shown by this man who has spent 26 years overseeing the construction of other hospitals and will be invaluable when the building starts.

A report from safety inspectors showed the old 1929 wing to have several safety deficiencies, the greatest of which is the lack of fireproofing between the original building and the 1954 addition. The board acted on the suggestion of the inspectors to install a door which would conform to standards. The door which will cost $1,200 will be placed at the front medical desk and automatically closes and seals upon contact of either smoke or heat.

Reid informed the board bids had already been submitted by companies carrying this type door and the three which were submitted were nearly the same. The board voted to have the door installed which best meets the qualifications set by the safety inspectors. Such a door is both heat and smoke sensitive.

Physician coverage of the emergency room was discussed by the board. Several groups have expressed interest in covering the emergency room. The group which is presently working part time is interested in staying although three of the physicians will be coming out of residency. The board decided to have a representative from the group meet with the executive committee before a final decision is reached.

Concluding his report to the board, Reid advised the members that a $1,000 had been received from the estate of Minnie Palm and another $1,000 from the Circle Plastics plant. The question of a physical therapist to replace Diane Berger was discussed and Reid advised the board two part-time therapists were presently covering the vacancy effectively.

Board members present were Dr. Carlos Alvarez, Dr. F. W. Anderson, Howard Koch, Charles Rose, Russell Palm. Dr. William Myers was present to represent the Berger medical staff and Jennie Russell to represent the Berger Guilds.

Kissinger Remains On Shuttle

JERUSALEM (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger goes to Damascus for the 10th time in his bid to close two side gaps which remain before he can separate the warring armies of Israel and Syria.

Kissinger said Wednesday his wife, Nancy, would accompany him on his shuttle back to the Syrian capital, where he planned to give a luncheon for Syrian leaders involved in negotiations.

He leaves for Damascus after another morning session of talks with Israeli Premier Golda Meir and her negotiating team.

A senior American official said there remains a "pretty wide" gap between the hostile neighbors on two major issues: Syria's resistance to thinning out its forces defending Damascus, and the size of a United Nations team to man the proposed buffer zone.

Israel is also reported to be reluctant to limit its troops guarding Jewish settlements near the front and population centers in the Jordan River valley.

The United States official said Israel insists on a contingent of thousands of men in the buffer zone on the Golan Heights, where fighting has raged for more than two months. Syria is opposed to any sizable U.N. presence on what it considers its territory.

However, the official added that Kissinger has achieved significant agreement on three major issues: Where the Golan Heights line should be drawn, exchange of prisoners from last October's war and the status of the U.N. group.

Weather

Variable cloudiness and mild today, high, mid 70s. Partly cloudy and cooler tonight and Friday. Low tonight, upper 40s. High tomorrow, upper 70s. Probability of precipitation, 20 per cent today and tonight and 10 per cent tomorrow. Temperatures Wednesday were: high, 76; low, 59.

State Senate Eyes End To Sovereign Immunity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State senators turn their attention today to a bill that would make Ohio subject to lawsuits, taking away a time worn immunity that dates back to the crowned heads of old Europe.

Up for a vote is a Housepassed proposal that would do away with the slow and unwieldy Sundry Claims Board and establish a State Court of Claims to hear suits against the state which presently cannot be sued.

Advocates of the legislation, of which Rep. Robert A. Nader, D-55 Warren, is the chief sponsor, say it will bring justice faster to those injured through the state's negligence.

Under the present system, such victims must file claims with the layman-oriented claims boards which makes recommendations to the legislature for final approval. The envisioned new court of judges would operate outside legislative scrutiny, as other existing courts do.

"This bill would end the notion that the king can do no wrong, and therefore can't be sued," said Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, a co-sponsor.

Meanwhile, House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, says he sees "little chance" that the House will reconsider it's Wednesday decision to kill an omnibus bill that would have created more than three dozen new judgeships throughout the state.

Riffe was instrumental in getting approval of a floor amendment that saved about 500 mayors' courts in Ohio. They would have been abolished by the bill as it went to its hostile reception on the floor.

But after deletion of that controversial proposal—by a vote of 57-35—the House rejected the entire package. The vote on the bill itself was 52-38 with 66—or a two-thirds majority—required for legislation that creates new courts.

The long-debated bill would have established new municipal courts in Wadsworth and New Philadelphia and added from 38 to 43 new judges elsewhere, at various stages of committee and floor deliberations.

Riffe said, and Minority Leader

Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg added his agreement, that most of the members simply didn't like the idea of linking new judgeships with the mayors' courts proposal which has been killed at every session for the past 10 years.

Riffe was one of the most outspoken opponents of those seeking to abolish mayors courts, maintaining that in his own county of Scioto and elsewhere, the existing municipal courts would be unable to handle the mayors' caseloads.

Rep. Richard Finan, R-19 Cincinnati, said mayors' courts last year in Hamilton County handled 105,000 cases that otherwise would have gone to the municipal courts.

Finan offered a compromise amendment that would have retained mayors' courts but permitted municipal judges to assign referees to hear their cases. On a motion by Riffe, his amendment was tabled by a vote of 62-28.

In other developments, Robert Tenenbaum, Gov. John J. Gilligan's press secretary, said the governor is expected to sign into law a bill that restores Ohio's regulation and control of abortions.

The House concurred 65-31 Wednesday in Senate amendments to the bill allowing abortions but spelling out responsibilities of physicians, to whom the operations would be restricted. Some lawmakers predicted at least part of it will fail to meet constitutional tests, namely one provision that outlaws the use of public funds to pay for an abortion.

Ohio's old law prohibiting abortions, except in cases where the life of the mother was threatened, was struck down by a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court 17 months ago. Ohio has had no law since, and sponsors of the new law claim "abortion mills" are operating at will throughout the state.

In other action, the House defeated a motion to reconsider a previously-beaten bill that would have outlawed "Saturday night special" handguns, apparently putting it to rest for the current session.

Sponsoring Rep. John A. Galbraith, R-69 Maumee, was able to muster only a 39-50 vote to reconsider the bill which went down in the House April 3 by a 45-51 tally. Noting he had "lost votes", Galbraith commented "that's it for this session."

The bill would have prohibited sale or manufacture of cheap weapons that have less than three-inch barrels, melt at 800 degrees Fahrenheit, and generally are priced in the $20 to $25 range.

Also defeated by the House during its prolonged floor session was a proposal designed to streamline Ohio corporation laws. It assertedly would make the state competitive with states such as Delaware in attracting corporate charters and related business activity.

The House rejected it 43-49 after claims it represented an effort to "entrench" existing corporate management while taking away the already limited rights of shareholders.

State Senate Eyes End To Sovereign Immunity

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State senators turn their attention today to a bill that would make Ohio subject to lawsuits, taking away a time worn immunity that dates back to the crowned heads of old Europe.

Up for a vote is a Housepassed proposal that would do away with the slow and unwieldy Sundry Claims Board and establish a State Court of Claims to hear suits against the state which presently cannot be sued.

Advocates of the legislation, of which Rep. Robert A. Nader, D-55 Warren, is the chief sponsor, say it will bring justice faster to those injured through the state's negligence.

Under the present system, such victims must file claims with the layman-oriented claims boards which makes recommendations to the legislature for final approval. The envisioned new court of judges would operate outside legislative scrutiny, as other existing courts do.

"This bill would end the notion that the king can do no wrong, and therefore can't be sued," said Rep. Alan E. Norris, R-27 Westerville, a co-sponsor. Meanwhile, House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, says he sees "little chance" that the House will reconsider it's Wednesday decision to kill an omnibus bill that would have created more than three dozen new judgeships throughout the state.

Riffe was instrumental in getting approval of a floor amendment that saved about 500 mayors' courts in Ohio. They would have been abolished by the bill as it went to its hostile reception on the floor.

But after deletion of that controversial proposal—by a vote of 57-35—the House rejected the entire package. The vote on the bill itself was 52-38 with 66—or a two-thirds majority—required for legislation that creates new courts.

The long-debated bill would have established new municipal courts in Wadsworth and New Philadelphia and added from 38 to 43 new judges elsewhere, at various stages of committee and floor deliberations.

Riffe said, and Minority Leader

Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg added his agreement, that most of the members simply didn't like the idea of linking new judgeships with the mayors' courts proposal which has been killed at every session for the past 10 years.

Riffe was one of the most outspoken opponents of those seeking to abolish mayors' courts, maintaining that in his own county of Scioto and elsewhere, the existing municipal courts would be unable to handle the mayors' caseloads.

Rep. Richard Finin, R-19 Cincinnati, said mayors' courts last year in Hamilton County handled 105,000 cases that otherwise would have gone to the municipal courts.

Finin offered a compromise amendment that would have retained mayors' courts but permitted municipal judges to assign referees to hear their cases. On a motion by Riffe, his amendment was tabled by a vote of 62-28.

In other developments, Robert Tenenbaum, Gov. John J. Gilligan's

press secretary, said the governor is expected to sign into law a bill that restores Ohio's regulation and control of abortions.

The House concurred 65-31 Wednesday in Senate amendments to the bill allowing abortions but spelling out responsibilities of physicians, to whom the operations would be restricted. Some lawmakers predicted at least part of it will fail to meet constitutional tests, namely one provision that outlaws the use of public funds to pay for an abortion.

Ohio's old law prohibiting abortions, except in cases where the life of the mother was threatened, was struck down by a decision of the U.S. Supreme Court 17 months ago. Ohio has had no law since, and sponsors of the new law claim "abortion mills" are operating at will throughout the state.

In other action, the House defeated a motion to reconsider a previously-beaten bill that would have outlawed "Saturday night special" handguns, apparently putting it to rest for the current session. Sponsoring Rep. John A. Galbraith, R-69 Maumee, was able to muster only a 39-50 vote to reconsider the bill which went down in the House April 3 by a 45-51 tally. Noting he had "lost votes", Galbraith commented "that's it for this session."

The bill would have prohibited sale or manufacture of cheap weapons that have less than three-inch barrels, melt at 800 degrees Fahrenheit, and generally are priced in the $20 to $25 range.

Also defeated by the House during its prolonged floor session was a proposal designed to streamline Ohio corporation laws. It assertedly would make the state competitive with states such as Delaware in attracting corporate charters and related business activity.

The House rejected it 43-49 after claims it represented an effort to "entrench" existing corporate management while taking away the already limited rights of shareholders.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was generally weak today, despite some scattered bargain hunting in bluechip issues.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up .86 at 803.43, reflecting gains in some of the big-name stocks. But declines outnumbered advances by about 7 to 4 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Technical analysts said many investors were waiting to see whether the momentum from the market's recent declines would carry the Dow below the psychologically important 800 level.

Matsushita Electric was the Big Board volume leader, up 1/2% at 15 1/2. A 102,200-share block of the issue changed hands at that price.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market-value index was down .59 at 79.54.

The Amex volume leader was Syntex, down 1/4 to 48 1/2.

The NYSE's noon composite index of some 1,500 common stocks stood at 45.82, down .09.

Three Injured In Accident

Three persons were treated at Berger Hospital for injuries as a result of a single-car accident, 12:20 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz, investigating officer, Ruby Walden, 19, Route 1, Ashville, was westbound on State Route 762 when she went off the right side of the road.

Losing control, the auto slid across the road into a ditch striking a tree head-on.

Ms. Walden was treated and released at Berger for multiple contusions and abrasions and a broken nose.

Christopher Walden, 2 1/2, passenger in the auto, was transferred to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for possible internal and abdominal injuries.

A third passenger, Newton K. Smith, 13, Grove City, received abrasions and contusions but was not treated at the hospital.

No citation was issued.

New Blaze Hits Chelsea

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — Businessmen and residents of this old industrial city just north of Boston are wondering if they will ever be free from the threat of raging fires.

Firefighters were still working today to extinguish Wednesday's blaze that virtually destroyed a four-block sector of industrial buildings.

"This latest fire is just a terrible thing," Joseph W. Downes, executive director of the city's chamber of commerce, said. "It means prohibitive insurance rates. It will be almost impossible for businessmen to cope with."

Damage estimates are still being compiled. Chelsea Mayor Philip Spelman, a former police officer, and Acting Fire Chief William Cepstran estimated the damage will exceed $1 million. Spelman said several hundred jobs will be lost and has asked for federal aid.

The fire was the third major blaze in Chelsea in eight months. It hardly compared to the mammoth $100 million fire last October which destroyed a 20-block area and left more than 1,000 persons homeless.

Wednesday's blaze destroyed firms that manufacture industrial supplies, barrels, rubber tires, stereo equipment and plastics.

And, only six weeks ago, a fire in the downtown Chelsea area destroyed several retail businesses.

Despite the loss of property and jobs, none of the three major fires have caused any deaths. Wednesday's fire resulted only in minor injuries to about half a dozen firefighters.

No Invasion Of Brown Spiders

WAYNESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Police Sgt. Paul Gilley breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday after biologists at Miami University reported the town was not facing an invasion of poisonous brown recluse spiders.

The spiders were reported by Michael Rye, who discovered a nest in his grandfather's home. Biologists said the spiders were harmless brown spiders.

Gilley said plans were in the works to evacuate and spray the town.

"Waynesville can sleep tonight," he smiled.

Armed Robbery Charges Dropped

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Armed robbery charges were dismissed Wednesday against Andrew Wallace, 21, after the fourth jury in a year in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court was unable to reach a decision.

Wallace had been accused of a delicatessen and drug store holdup in 1973.

Judge Gilbert Bettman dismissed the charges rather than order another trial.

Carpooling Works For Air Base

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One out of every five employees at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here rides to work in a carpool, base officials reported today.

That's 5,440 carpools out of a workforce of 26,342, a report showed. These figures are expected to increase as soon as the base's computer matching program for carpooling goes into effect, said Col. Basil Manly III, energy task force chief.

SINGLE CAR ACCIDENT—Wet road was considered the cause of a single-car accident, Wednesday, in which three persons were injured. Ruby Walden, driver, lost control of the auto, striking a tree head-on. Sheriff's Deputies Bill Dountz and J. Phillip Brown investigated the incident.

Patty Hearst Faces Life Imprisonment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst faces the possibility of life in prison as she is hunted as kidnaper suspect rather than kidnaper victim.

In a further dramatic turnabout since her kidnapping by the Symbionese Liberation Army Feb. 4, Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch lodged 19 felony charges against her Wednesday.

"She faces life imprisonment," Busch said. "In our opinion, Miss Hearst was acting on her own free will," he said in outlining the charges, which included four counts of robbery, five of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder and two of kidnapping. They were filed against Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris.

Busch called again on the three to surrender, but expressed doubt that they would and said there would be "no deal." He said he believed it was the first time a kidnaper victim had become a kidnaper suspect.

Miss Hearst, 20-year-old coed and heiress to a publishing fortune, and the Harrises, a white couple who police say comprise the remnants of the SLA, were charged with 18 counts each. A 19th charge, of aiding and abetting assault, was filed against Miss Hearst, and it raised the possibility that police believe she may not be with the Harrises.

The assault charge accuses Miss Hearst of being with two black men who tried unsuccessfully to slash a Los Angeles landlady last Sunday when she denied the three a room. Some of the other alleged "sightings" of Miss Hearst have placed her with persons other than the Harrises, and an 18-year-old youth says he saw her leave a Los Angeles house last Thursday with two black men. It was that house where six SLA members died in a fiery shootout last Friday.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco, a grand jury prepared to hear testimony today about an SLA bank robbery there and the kidnapping of Miss Hearst. Witnesses were said to include Tom Dean Matthews; Patty's mother, Catherine; and Steven Weed, the 27-year-old tutor she fell in love with in high school and was to marry this summer.

Matthews, 18, reportedly told FBI

agents that Miss Hearst said she fired 30 rifle shots during a getaway from a sporting goods store last week. He said she and the Harrises kidnapped him, and said Miss Hearst told him she had willingly taken part in the bank robbery and had joined the SLA of her own free will.

The search for the three fugitives continued to center on Los Angeles, but FBI agents declined to be specific about leads.

Appeals mounted for them to surrender.

Deputies Attend School

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies John Bost, Gary Betts and civil Deputy F. Robert Gans attended a communications school May 20-22 in Mansfield, sponsored by the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association.

Instructed by the public relations department of the Richland County Sheriff's Department, the three local dispatchers received training procedures concerning the use of the radio, telephone and leads operation of the teletype.

Three Injured In Accident

Three persons were treated at Berger Hospital for injuries as a result of a single-car accident, 12:20 p.m. Wednesday.

According to Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy Bill Dountz, investigating officer, Ruby Walden, 19, Route 1, Ashville, was westbound on State Route 762 when she went off the right side of the road.

Losing control, the auto slid across the road into a ditch striking a tree head-on.

Ms. Walden was treated and released at Berger for multiple contusions and abrasions and a broken nose.

Christopher Walden, 2 1/2, passenger in the auto, was transferred to Children's Hospital, Columbus, for possible internal and abdominal injuries.

A third passenger, Newton K. Smith, 13, Grove City, received abrasions and contusions but was not treated at the hospital.

New Blaze Hits Chelsea

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — Businessmen and residents of this old industrial city just north of Boston are wondering if they will ever be free from the threat of raging fires.

Firefighters were still working today to extinguish Wednesday's blaze that virtually destroyed a four-block sector of industrial buildings.

"This latest fire is just a terrible thing," Joseph W. Downes, executive director of the city's chamber of commerce, said. "It means prohibitive insurance rates. It will be almost impossible for businessmen to cope with."

Damage estimates are still being compiled. Chelsea Mayor Philip Spelman, a former police officer, and Acting Fire Chief William Cepistran estimated the damage will exceed $1 million. Spelman said several hundred jobs will be lost and has asked for federal aid.

The fire was the third major blaze in Chelsea in eight months. It hardly compared to the mammoth $100 million fire last October which destroyed a 20-block area and left more than 1,000 persons homeless.

Wednesday's blaze destroyed firms that manufacture industrial supplies, barrels, rubber tires, stereo equipment and plastics.

And, only six weeks ago, a fire in the downtown Chelsea area destroyed several retail businesses.

Despite the loss of property and jobs, none of the three major fires have caused any deaths. Wednesday's fire resulted only in minor injuries to about half a dozen firefighters.

No Invasion Of Brown Spiders

WAYNESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Police Sgt. Paul Gilley breathed a sigh of relief Wednesday after biologists at Miami University reported the town was not facing an invasion of poisonous brown recluse spiders.

The spiders were reported by Michael Rye, who discovered a nest in his grandfather's home. Biologists said the spiders were harmless brown spiders.

Gilley said plans were in the works to evacuate and spray the town.

"Waynesville can sleep tonight," he smiled.

Armed Robbery Charges Dropped

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Armed robbery charges were dismissed Wednesday against Andrew Wallace, 21, after the fourth jury in a year in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court was unable to reach a decision.

Wallace had been accused of a delicatessen and drug store holdup in 1973.

Judge Gilbert Bettman dismissed the charges rather than order another trial.

Carpooling Works For Air Base

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — One out of every five employees at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here rides to work in a carpool, base officials reported today.

That's 5,440 carpoolers out of a workforce of 26,342, a report showed.

These figures are expected to increase as soon as the base's computer matching program for carpooling goes into effect, said Col. Basil Manly III, energy task force chief.

SINGLE CAR ACCIDENT—Wet road was considered the cause of a single-car accident, Wednesday, in which three persons were injured. Ruby Walden, driver, lost control of the auto, striking a tree head-on. Sheriff's Deputies Bill Dountz and J. Phillip Brown investigated the incident.

Patty Hearst Faces Life Imprisonment

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Patricia Hearst faces the possibility of life in prison as she is hunted as kidnaper suspect rather than kidnap victim.

In a further dramatic turnabout since her kidnapping by the Symbionese Liberation Army Feb. 4, Los Angeles County Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch lodged 19 felony charges against her Wednesday.

"She faces life imprisonment," Busch said. "In our opinion, Miss Hearst was acting on her own free will," he said in outlining the charges, which included four counts of robbery, five of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder and two of kidnapping. They were filed against Miss Hearst and William and Emily Harris.

Busch called again on the three to surrender, but expressed doubt that they would and said there would be "no deal." He said he believed it was the first time a kidnaper victim had become a kidnaper suspect.

Miss Hearst, 20-year-old coed and heiress to a publishing fortune, and the Harrises, a white couple who police say comprise the remnants of the SLA, were charged with 18 counts each. A 19th charge, of aiding and abetting assault, was filed against Miss Hearst, and it raised the possibility that police believe she may not be with the Harrises.

The assault charge accuses Miss Hearst of being with two black men who tried unsuccessfully to slash a Los Angeles landlady last Sunday when she denied the three a room. Some of the other alleged "sightings" of Miss Hearst have placed her with persons other than the Harrises, and an 18-year-old youth says he saw her leave a Los Angeles house last Thursday with two black men. It was that house where six SLA members died in a fiery shootout last Friday.

Meanwhile, in San Francisco, a grand jury prepared to hear testimony today about an SLA bank robbery there and the kidnapping of Miss Hearst. Witnesses were said to include Tom Dean Matthews; Patty's mother, Catherine; and Steven Weed, the 27-year-old tutor she fell in love with in high school and was to marry this summer.

Matthews, 18, reportedly told FBI

agents that Miss Hearst said she fired 30 rifle shots during a getaway from a sporting goods store last week. He said she and the Harrises kidnaped him, and said Miss Hearst told him she had willingly taken part in the bank robbery and had joined the SLA of her own free will.

The search for the three fugitives continued to center on Los Angeles, but FBI agents declined to be specific about leads.

Deputies Attend School

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies John Bost, Gary Betts and civil Deputy F. Robert Gans attended a communications school May 20-22 in Mansfield, sponsored by the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association.

Instructed by the public relations department of the Richland County Sheriff's Department, the three local dispatchers received training procedures concerning the use of the radio, telephone and leads operation of the teletype.

Dear Abby:

Heading For Trouble?

DEAR ABBY: Maybe this is none of my business but I'm worried about my 14-year-old granddaughter. She's a beautiful child and very mature for her age. That's the trouble I'm afraid. She's growing up too fast for her own good.

She turned 14 last Christmas and her boyfriend (he is 21) gave her a suede coat trimmed with real fur. He also gave her suede boots and a purse to match. That's not all. He gave her a portable TV and stereo set with maybe two dozen albums, plus a ten pound box of candy.

I don't think that a girl that age should be allowed to accept such expensive presents from a man, do you? The girls father (my son) wasn't too pleased, but the mother thought it was just wonderful, and she even bragged to all her friends about it.

I can't talk to my daughter-in-law because she thinks I'm an old fogey, but I'd like to know what you think about

9 Named To Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John J. Gilligan appointed nine persons today to the board of the proposed General Technical College.

The board will be responsible for governing the planned institution which will serve Adams, Brown, Clinton, Fayette and Highland counties.

Named to two-year terms on the panel were Hugh M. Rea, 56, of Washington Court House, Ralph W. Phillips, 42, of Greenfield, and Phillip McConnell, 51, of Georgetown.

Gilligan appointed Francis H. Henderson, 64, of Manchester, Edwin P. Reffett, 54, of Georgetown, and Dr. John W. Bryant, 38, of Wilmington, to four-year terms.

Chosen for six-year terms were Dale Stokes, 34, of Wilmington, Richard Kimmet, 46, of Washington Court House, and Herman J. Rosselot, 75, of Lynchburg.

this. I'm so afraid that the child is headed for trouble. What can I do?

GRAM
DEAR GRAM: Nothing, unfortunately, since her mother thinks it's "wonderful." Let's hope your granddaughter doesn't have any rough sledding before she finds out there isn't any Santa Clause.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a senior in high school. Lots of the kids at this school get drunk, smoke grass and have sex. They think it's cool.

I don't do any of these things and they call me a square. It's not that I'm better than the others; I just don't want to participate in unlawful or immoral activities. Are there many other kids who don't follow the crowd and try to be cool?

LONER AT S.H.S.
DEAR LONER: Plenty. Those "cool" characters usually end up in hot water up to their necks. In your case, square is smart.

DEAR ABBY: So many older people grumble about how "neglected" they are. I wonder if it ever occurred to them that if they made an effort to be in good company, they might attract more people. I realize that nobody can be cheerful all the time, but people who talk of nothing but illness, death, hardships present and past, will find that even close relatives give up, and pay only an occasional "duty" visit, and never stay any longer than they have to.

Take my mother; My husband and I drove 300 miles to take her out to dinner on Mother's Day. My husband has a wonderful sense of humor and he tried so hard to entertain her, but he couldn't get her to brighten up no matter how hard he tried.

She spent the whold time talking about illness, and death, and everybody's bad luck, and all the depressing subjects in the world.

We could have spent much more time with her, but four hours of her company put us both so down in the dumps we couldn't wait to leave. I was depressed for two days afterwards.

Abby, she's much better off than many others, but she complains constantly, throwing digs about how nobody ever comes to see her. I wish she realized that not ALL older people are avoided. Only the crepe-hangers. Please print this. She may get the hint.

HAD IT WITH MOM
DEAR HAD IT: Don't bet the rent. If she sees it at all, she'll probably apply it to some of her friends.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I urge you to veto the welfare bill." So said a telegram sent to the governor, supposedly from a concerned citizen by the name of Watson. But in fact, Watson had nothing to do with the telegram. It had been sent by a local manufacturing firm, which had simply picked his name out of the telephone book.

Watson later found out about the telegram, and filed a damage suit against the company "for taking my name in vain." And a court ruled that he did indeed have good grounds for complaint. The court said:

"(The company appropriated, without the plaintiff's consent, his name, his personality, and whatever influence he may have possessed. This they had no right to do."

This case illustrates the growing recognition of the right of privacy as a legal doctrine. Often called "the right to be let alone," it has already been applied in a wide variety of situations.

Another example arose when an obstetrician, summoned to a woman's home to deliver her baby, brought a young man into the bedroom with him.

The woman assumed that the stranger was some sort of medical aide. Only afterward did she learn that he was merely a personal friend of the doctor. She sued for an intrusion on her privacy, and the court upheld her claim.

Of course, the right of privacy is not unlimited. It must be reconciled with other rights with which it may conflict. Thus:

A man who was mugged on a downtown street objected to the publicity that appeared in the local press. He argued in a court hearing that, as a private individual who had done no wrong, he was entitled to the shelter of the privacy doctrine.

But the court pointed out that whether he liked it or not, he was "newsworthy" — a legitimate object of public interest. The right of privacy, said the court, did not outweigh the freedom of the press guaranteed by the Constitution.

State Eyes Make-Work Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's General Assembly is being asked to take up the slack in a sagging federal program by seeking on its own to put welfare recipients into productive jobs.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, and several other legislators have introduced a bill that would place welfare clients on the public payroll.

It would work something like the federal Work Incentive Program, which has been sharply curtailed as a result of cutbacks in federal funds.

Kurfess explained that the state would partially finance jobs created specifically for welfare clients for a period of five years. The jobs could be created within any agency of state government.

During the first three years, the employing agency would be reimbursed by the Bureau of Employment Services for 75 per cent of the salary paid, or $400 a month, whichever was the lesser.

In the fourth year, the agency would get 50 per cent, or $300, and in the fifth year, 25 per cent, or $200, whichever is the lesser, Kurfess said.

The minority leader said the idea of the program was to provide opportunities to welfare families who otherwise might remain on relief rolls indefinitely.

Kurfess conceded that the vast majority of welfare funds go for Aid to Dependent Children, but said that finding a job for the parent or parents of such children "will take the children off the welfare roles."

Kurfess estimated $3,600 as the cost of each job created. He envisioned as many as 4,000 jobs in the first year of the program's operations, and said such an effort would cost the state $14.4 million.

The former GOP House speaker said he would seek the support of majority House Democrats on the basis of an existing surplus of 1973-1975 revenues.

"The money is available," he said.

Under his bill, public employment career positions would be made available to individuals who have been on Aid to Dependent Children or General Relief for at least six months. They must have been classified as employable by their county welfare department and could not be diverted from any welfare training program in which they already were enrolled.

Kurfess said the new positions would be included in the civil service system, where appropriate, and the employee would not be subject to competitive examination during the first six months of employment.

Salaries of participants, he said, would meet the minimum requirements and prevailing wages paid for comparable positions.

Dear Abby:

Heading For Trouble?

DEAR ABBY: Maybe this is none of my business but I'm worried about my 14-year-old granddaughter. She's a beautiful child and very mature for her age. That's the trouble I'm afraid. She's growing up too fast for her own good.

She turned 14 last Christmas and her boyfriend (he is 21) gave her a suede coat trimmed with real fur. He also gave her suede boots and a purse to match. That's not all. He gave her a portable TV and stereo set with maybe two dozen albums, plus a ten pound box of candy.

I don't think that a girl that age should be allowed to accept such expensive presents from a man, do you? The girls father (my son) wasn't too pleased, but the mother thought it was just wonderful, and she even bragged to all her friends about it.

I can't talk to my daughter-in-law because she thinks I'm an old fogey, but I'd like to know what you think about this. I'm so afraid that the child is headed for trouble. What can I do?

GRAM: Nothing, unfortunately, since her mother thinks it's "wonderful." Let's hope your granddaughter doesn't have any rough sledding before she finds out there isn't any Santa Clause.

DEAR ABBY: I'm a senior in high school. Lots of the kids at this school get drunk, smoke grass and have sex. They think it's cool.

I don't do any of these things and they call me a square. It's not that I'm better than the others; I just don't want to participate in unlawful or immoral activities. Are there many other kids who don't follow the crowd and try to be cool?

LONER AT S.H.S.: DEAR LONER: Plenty. Those "cool" characters usually end up in hot water up to their necks. In your case, square is smart.

DEAR ABBY: So many older people grumble about how "neglected" they are. I wonder if it ever occurred to them that if they made an effort to be in good company, they might attract more people. I realize that nobody can be cheerful all the time, but people who talk of nothing but illness, death, hardships present and past, will find that even close relatives give up, and pay only an occasional "duty" visit, and never stay any longer than they have to.

Take my mother; My husband and I drove 300 miles to take her out to dinner on Mother's Day. My husband has a wonderful sense of humor and he tried so hard to entertain her, but he couldn't get her to brighten up no matter how hard he tried.

She spent the whole time talking about illness, and death, and everybody's bad luck, and all the depressing subjects in the world.

We could have spent much more time with her, but four hours of her company put us both so down in the dumps we couldn't wait to leave. I was depressed for two days afterwards.

Abby, she's much better off than many others, but she complains constantly, throwing digs about how nobody ever comes to see her. I wish she realized that not ALL older people are avoided. Only the crepe-hangers. Please print this. She may get the hint.

HAD IT WITH MOM: DEAR HAD IT: Don't bet the rent. If she sees it at all, she'll probably apply it to some of her friends.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

"I urge you to veto the welfare bill." So said a telegram sent to the governor, supposedly from a concerned citizen by the name of Watson. But in fact, Watson had nothing to do with the telegram. It had been sent by a local manufacturing firm, which had simply picked his name out of the telephone book.

Watson later found out about the telegram, and filed a damage suit against the company "for taking my name in vain." And a court ruled that he did indeed have good grounds for complaint. The court said:

"(The company appropriated, without the plaintiff's consent, his name, his personality, and whatever influence he may have possessed. This they had no right to do."

This case illustrates the growing recognition of the right of privacy as a legal doctrine. Often called "the right to be let alone," it has already been applied in a wide variety of situations.

Another example arose when an obstetrician, summoned to a woman's home to deliver her baby, brought a young man into the bedroom with him.

The woman assumed that the stranger was some sort of medical aide. Only afterward did she learn that he was merely a personal friend of the doctor. She sued for an intrusion on her privacy, and the court upheld her claim.

Of course, the right of privacy is not unlimited. It must be reconciled with other rights with which it may conflict. Thus:

A man who was mugged on a downtown street objected to the publicity that appeared in the local press. He argued in a court hearing that, as a private individual who had done no wrong, he was entitled to the shelter of the privacy doctrine.

But the court pointed out that whether he liked it or not, he was "newsworthy" — a legitimate object of public interest. The right of privacy, said the court, did not outweigh the freedom of the press guaranteed by the Constitution.

State Eyes Make-Work Plans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's General Assembly is being asked to take up the slack in a sagging federal program by seeking on its own to put welfare recipients into productive jobs.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, and several other legislators have introduced a bill that would place welfare clients on the public payroll.

It would work something like the federal Work Incentive Program, which has been sharply curtailed as a result of cutbacks in federal funds. Kurfess explained that the state would partially finance jobs created specifically for welfare clients for a period of five years. The jobs could be created within any agency of state government.

During the first three years, the employing agency would be reimbursed by the Bureau of Employment Services for 75 per cent of the salary paid, or $400 a month, whichever was the lesser.

In the fourth year, the agency would get 50 per cent, or $300, and in the fifth year, 25 per cent, or $200, whichever was the lesser, Kurfess said.

The minority leader said the idea of the program was to provide opportunities to welfare families who otherwise might remain on relief rolls indefinitely.

Kurfess conceded that the vast majority of welfare funds go for Aid to Dependent Children, but said that finding a job for the parent or parents of such children "will take the children off the welfare roles."

Kurfess estimated $3,600 as the cost of each job created. He envisioned as many as 4,000 jobs in the first year of the program's operations, and said such an effort would cost the state $14.4 million.

Appeal Of Controls

Joint planning by Congress and the White House on the economy could be a useful tool, if it were used to inform and prepare rather than dictate and control. Given the propensity of government to attempt to control fields it enters in an advisory capacity, that distinction may not be possible.

The first bipartisan talks between the two branches of government on an economic planning agency brought doubts from Treasury Secretary William Simon about the possibility of major bureaucratic interference in the economy. "If the mechanism is there, there will always be the temptation to use it," Simon said.

Simon does, however, favor a joint approach to the nation's economic problems by the administration and Congress. But as the former energy czar, Simon apparently has had his fill of government controls and would prefer the economy does not become further ensnared in that tactic.

In that sentiment the secretary has the support of many of his countrymen. About all the late and unlamented price and wage control program did was create widespread shortages and dislocations and bottle up economic pressures to produce one mammoth inflationary push when the controls were removed.

It is disappointing that so many economic experts in the employ of the government in an advisory capacity fail to see that the most efficient economic tool remains the give and take of consumers and producers meeting under the aegis of the free enterprise system. Control of course means power and it is that influence which has corrupted more economic theories than any other.

No More Tape At Top

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Sometimes it seems a shame that the White House has been de-bugged. Because it has been cleansed of the little green hornets, we may never know what really happened when the President and the Vice President of the United States met for an hour as black impeachment clouds hung over the Oval Room.

The President made no effort to characterize the nature of the meeting, though there was much speculation that he ordered Gerald Ford to exercise more discretion in his talks with reporters: to wit, such gaffes as his interview with John Osborne of the New Republic in which he gave that fine journalist a kind of line-up of who would be retained and who would be dumped in a Ford Administration.

Ford, however, gave a statement on what the hour-long meeting was all about. He said, with apparently a pat of unmeted butter on his tongue, that the man who promoted him to within one heartbeat (or one Senate vote) of the Presidency was worried about all the work Ford has taken upon himself. He ought to slow down for his health's sake, Ford said the President advised him. Period.

That advice could have been given in a one minute or less phone call, or sent by postcard, rather than an entire hour.

The relationship of the pair is becoming that of a high-level Odd Couple. When he was tapped for Bones, following Spiro Agnew's disgrace, Ford and his wife made a special point of denying that he had any White House ambitions whatsoever; that all he was interested in was giving the Grand Old Party a little more respect.

Now he is being hailed as the titular head of the party, what with the President's manifold problems and the defection of such distinguished GOP spokesmen as Sen. Hugh Scott. His role as seat-warmer has changed to almost that of Svengali or, perhaps a better analogy, 'enry'iggins, the heavy in "My Fair Lady." He could hurt the President grievously by not helping him in this agonizing time, immensely improve his own chances for a 1976 nomination he loudly disclaimed.

Bill Moyers, President Johnson's man who became one of the finer reporter commentators on Public Television, announces that he is bowing out because he has "nothing more to say at this time."

That's a dastardly inside attack on the cult of the commentator, printed or electronic. How dare he try to implant in the minds of readers and viewers that we of the personalized media write too much, talk too much, and may be less infallible?

This turncoat's dangerous example will not be followed! We shall continue to vow and disavow, pray and prey, ponder and pontificate seven days a week 'till death do us part.

So there, Bill Moyers! Turn in your typewriter.

There was a microscopic paragraph in the sports section of the New York Times the other day that read:

"West Point, N.Y. — Navy's lacrosse team rallied for five goals in the fourth quarter today to defeat Army, 12-7. Bob Desimons led the Middies' fourth-quarter surge with three goals, while the Navy defense held Army scoreless over the final 15 minutes."

It was a bit more momentous than that. It was the 50th annual Army-Navy lacrosse match, was for the benefit of the badly-needed USO (which still has the job of caring for 2,100,000 American servicemen and women spread around the world) and it honored the memory of the late great Gen. Emmet (Rosey) O'Donnell. Gen. O'Donnell was a star on the memorable Army football and lacrosse teams of the 1920s, leader of the first B-

29 raid on Tokyo, commander of the Far East Air Force and president of USO after his retirement. A plaque bearing his name, his wings and his four stars, was presented to West Point superintendent Lt. Gen. William A. Knowlton by Mrs. O'Donnell and son Patrick, a White House aide, in behalf of USO.

It was a beautiful day at West Point. Two of the four regiments of cadets marched meticulously on the parade ground, which looked like the largest putting green in history. The band's instruments struck bolts of lightning under the bright sun. Two statues of by-gone generals, Washington and MacArthur, never looked nobler. Retired generals and colonels toasted the irrepressible Rosy. Future generals and admirals clouted one another with their lacrosse sticks. Army, the underdog, took an exciting early lead in the game, while thousands cheered. (Lacrosse is about to be nationally televised. The old Indian game is livelier and rougher than football. It's a protracted period of foul play interrupted now and then by flagrant cases of sportsmanship.) It was a great day for Rosy, and a much-needed day for USO.

Business World

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While the future of housing may already seem as forlorn as an abandoned cellar excavation, still another dismal report has been issued by an important mortgage banker.

The nearly impossible situation faced by the industry is exemplified by a massive outflow of funds from mortgage lenders, by rising mortgage rates, and by materials costs that are rising at an unpredictably swift rate. But a report by Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit suggests that still another factor adds to the pummeling being administered to housing. In spite of pay increases, that is, customers are literally unable to buy.

Advance Mortgage summarized the predicament this way: "Home-buying costs have been rising some 3 1/2 times as fast as their customers' income." This indicates that, even if they can borrow, many customers won't do so. "In the past 12 months," the report continues, "average new home prices have increased at least 18 per cent, and mortgage interest rates on a 90 per cent mortgage are now in the range of 9 1/2 per cent where usury laws permit, compared to 8 1/4 per cent a year ago. "That adds up to a 28 per cent increase in the monthly payments on a typical home mortgage — compared to an 8 per cent increase in average personal income."

And the sales prices might go higher still. Irving Rose, president of Advance Mortgage, a subsidiary of the First National City Corp., notes that while raw land costs have leveled off, total development costs have risen.

Cost increases are said to be especially severe in petroleum-based components such as asphalt paving and shingles and plastic pipe, and metal items such as sewer pipes and reinforcing bars.

"Builders are complaining they don't know what their houses will cost," Rose relates. "In Florida, some single-family home builders are completing entire tracts in advance of any attempt to sell so they will know their complete costs before setting a price. Others are pre-selling but with escalation clauses."

Advance Mortgage concludes: "The housing recovery projected for this year has died in its cradle."

Judge Frees Citizen-Hero

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The man pleaded no contest to a charge of going the wrong way on a one-way street, but the judge found him innocent and cited the circumstances involved.

The story that developed Tuesday in suburban Shaker Heights Municipal Court involved a 28-year-old from Stow. He witnessed another driver cut in front of him, hit a camper truck and keeping on going. So the witness gave chase.

And that led him the wrong way down the one-way street; and when the other driver swerved out of the way of an oncoming car, the witness wound up in a collision.

Judge Manuel M. Rucker, saying that "we ask citizens to become involved," warned the witness "next time be careful to avoid endangering yourself and others."

The witness described himself as "the kind of person that if I see something wrong, I want to do something about it." And he remembered having tried to stop a robbery eight years ago—and being knifed in his efforts.

"People kid me all the time," he added. His name is James Bond.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney general's office in Ohio has received a petition calling for open admission to all state-supported graduate and professional schools.

The office said Tuesday the petition, prepared by Stan Kowalski of Toledo, a recent graduate of Ohio State University, would require 95,000 signatures by late December if it is to be presented to next year's General Assembly.

An additional 95,000 signatures would be needed to place the petition on the November, 1975, ballot, the office said.

If ultimately approved by voters, the proposal would require law, medical and other professional schools in Ohio to admit any residents of the state who apply.

Even in warm weather my hands become black and blue when I dip them in water. In cold weather it's worse. I've had it for a long time, but now it really worries me.

Mr. J. H. Okla.

Dear Mr. H.:

The first thought that occurs to me is that you may have one of the vascular disorders associated with spasms of the small arteries that go to the hands and feet.

Raynaud's disease is one of the conditions associated with vasospasm of the arteries.

Blanching and blueness of the skin, and numbness and tingling, are characteristic of this condition.

Tobacco may not necessarily be the cause for this constriction of the blood vessels; but certainly adds considerably to the problem. Nicotine constricts the blood vessels, and must be eliminated completely.

Numerous drugs and some surgical procedures are used for advanced cases or conditions similar to and related to Raynaud's.

When I read all the substances that are contained in low calorie drinks I wonder if any of them are dangerous.

Middleman Costs Continue To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although farmers have seen prices they get decline sharply in recent months, the reductions are not likely to be passed on fully to consumers because of rising middleman costs, says a top Agriculture Department official.

Don Paarlberg, director of economics for USDA, told Congress Tuesday that many economists are forecasting "further substantial increases" in the level of over-all prices this year. Traditionally, he said, the spread of food prices between farmers and consumers tends to follow the over-all price pattern.

"Because of this relationship and the expected rise in general price level, farm-retail spreads are expected to increase substantially in 1974," Paarlberg told a joint economic subcommittee. "Unless restraint is exercised, the retail cost of market-basket foods may not fully reflect any decrease in returns to farmers that may occur."

In other words, middleman charges for transporting, processing and

Can a plastic surgeon accurately predict the exact shape of a nose after the operation? Our daughter would like to have the surgery, but is fearful of the result.

Mrs. H. R. R. Tenn.

Dear Mrs. R.:

Within limits it is possible to anticipate the new anatomical shape of the nose.

It is, however, impossible to predict the exact shape even when a sketch is prepared in advance.

Special problems during the surgery, unusual configuration of the nasal bones, particularly wide bulbous cartilages at the tip of the nose, and the healing capacity of the individual affect the final result.

Modern surgical techniques have improved thousands of noses, and made thousands of people happier.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Miss Marjorie Carolyn Kiehlmeier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kiehlmeier of Reynoldsburg to William Allen Thornton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Thornton, East Main St.

Berger Hospital is now well on the road to being jointly operated by the city of Circleville and Pickaway County. The merger pact has been signed by Pickaway County Commissioners and City officials.

Two positions were open in the Circleville Police Department, one of them resulting from the resignation of John McGinnis who is slated to take a job as correctional officer in the federal reformatory in Chillicothe.

Pickaway Twp.'s 11 high school seniors returned from their six-day trip to Washington D. C.

Three Pickaway County boys picked to attend the American Legion Buckeye Boy's State were David Kraft of Ashville, Paul Morris of Pickaway and Danny Musser of Circleville.

Receive Petition On Admissions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The attorney general's office in Ohio has received a petition calling for open admission to all state-supported graduate and professional schools.

The office said Tuesday the petition, prepared by Stan Kowalski of Toledo, a recent graduate of Ohio State University, would require 95,000 signatures by late December if it is to be presented to next year's General Assembly.

An additional 95,000 signatures would be needed to place the petition on the November, 1975, ballot, the office said. If ultimately approved by voters, the proposal would require law, medical and other professional schools in Ohio to admit any residents of the state who apply.

No More Tape At Top

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Sometimes it seems a shame that the White House has been de-bugged. Because it has been cleansed of the little green hornets, we may never know what really happened when the President and the Vice President of the United States met for an hour as black impeachment clouds hung over the Oval Room.

The President made no effort to characterize the nature of the meeting, though there was much speculation that he ordered Gerald Ford to exercise more discretion in his talks with reporters: to wit, such gaffes as his interview with John Osborne of the New Republic in which he gave that fine journalist a kind of line-up of who would be retained and who would be dumped in a Ford Administration.

Ford, however, gave a statement on what the hour-long meeting was all about. He said, with apparently a pat of unmetted butter on his tongue, that the man who promoted him to within one heartbeat (or one Senate vote) of the Presidency was worried about all the work Ford has taken upon himself. He ought to slow down for his health's sake, Ford said the President advised him. Period.

That advice could have been given in a one minute or less phone call, or sent by postcard, rather than an entire hour.

The relationship of the pair is becoming that of a high-level Odd Couple. When he was tapped for Bones, following Spiro Agnew's disgrace, Ford and his wife made a special point of denying that he had any White House ambitions whatsoever; that all he was interested in was giving the Grand Old Party a little more respect.

Now he is being hailed as the titular head of the party, what with the President's manifold problems and the defection of such distinguished GOP spokesmen as Sen. Hugh Scott. His role as seat-warmer has changed to almost that of Svengali or, perhaps a better analogy, 'emry'iggins, the heavy in "My Fair Lady." He could hurt the President grievously by not helping him in this agonizing time, immensely improve his own chances for a 1976 nomination he loudly disclaimed.

Bill Moyers, President Johnson's man who became one of the finer reporter commentators on Public Television, announces that he is bowing out because he has "nothing more to say at this time."

That's a dastardly inside attack on the cult of the commentator, printed or electronic. How dare he try to implant in the minds of readers and televisioners that we of the personalized media write too much, talk too much, and may be less infallible?

This turncoat's dangerous example will not be followed! We shall continue to vow and disavow, pray and prey, ponder and pontificate seven days a week 'till death do us part.

So there, Bill Moyers! Turn in your typewriter.

There was a microscopic paragraph in the sports section of the New York Times the other day that read:

"West Point, N.Y. — Navy's lacrosse team rallied for five goals in the fourth quarter today to defeat Army, 12-7. Bob Desimons led the Middies' fourth-quarter surge with three goals, while the Navy defense held Army scoreless over the final 15 minutes."

It was a bit more momentous than that. It was the 50th annual Army-Navy lacrosse match, was for the benefit of the badly-needed USO (which still has the job of caring for 2,100,000 American servicemen and women spread around the world) and it honored the memory of the late great Gen. Emmet (Rosey) O'Donnell. Gen. O'Donnell was a star on the memorable Army football and lacrosse teams of the 1920s, leader of the first B-

29 raid on Tokyo, commander of the Far East Air Force and president of USO after his retirement. A plaque bearing his name, his wings and his four stars, was presented to West Point superintendent Lt. Gen. William A. Knowlton by Mrs. O'Donnell and son Patrick, a White House aid, in behalf of USO.

It was a beautiful day at West Point. Two of the four regiments of cadets marched meticulously on the parade ground, which looked like the largest putting green in history. The band's instruments struck bolts of lightning under the bright sun. Two statues of by-gone generals, Washington and MacArthur, never looked nobler. Retired generals and colonels toasted the irrepressible Rosy. Future generals and admirals clouted one another with their lacrosse sticks. Army, the underdog, took an exciting early lead in the game, while thousands cheered. (Lacrosse is about to be nationally televised. The old Indian game is livelier and rougher than football. It's a protracted period of foul play interrupted now and then by flagrant cases of sportsmanship.) It was a great day for Rosy, and a much-needed day for USO.

Business World

AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — While the future of housing may already seem as forlorn as an abandoned cellar excavation, still another dismal report has been issued by an important mortgage banker.

The nearly impossible situation faced by the industry is exemplified by a massive outflow of funds from mortgage lenders, by rising mortgage rates, and by materials costs that are rising at an unpredictably swift rate.

But a report by Advance Mortgage Corp. of Detroit suggests that still another factor adds to the pummeling being administered to housing. In spite of pay increases, that is, customers are literally unable to buy.

Advance Mortgage summarized the predicament this way: "Home-buying costs have been rising some 3½ times as fast as their customers' income." This indicates that, even if they can borrow, many customers won't do so. "In the past 12 months," the report continues, "average new home prices have increased at least 18 per cent, and mortgage interest rates on a 90 per cent mortgage are now in the range of 9½ per cent where usury laws permit, compared to 8¼ per cent a year ago. "That adds up to a 28 per cent increase in the monthly payments on a typical home mortgage — compared to an 8 per cent increase in average personal income."

And the sales prices might go higher still. Irving Rose, president of Advance Mortgage, a subsidiary of the First National City Corp., notes that while raw land costs have leveled off, total development costs have risen.

Cost increases are said to be especially severe in petroleum-based components such as asphalt paving and shingles and plastic pipe, and metal items such as sewer pipes and reinforcing bars.

"Builders are complaining they don't know what their houses will cost," Rose relates. "In Florida, some single-family home builders are completing entire tracts in advance of any attempt to sell so they will know their complete costs before setting a price. Others are pre-selling but with escalation clauses."

Advance Mortgage concludes: "The housing recovery projected for this year has died in its cradle."

Judge Frees Citizen-Hero

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—The man pleaded no contest to a charge of going the wrong way on a one-way street, but the judge found him innocent and cited the circumstances involved.

The story that developed Tuesday in suburban Shaker Heights Municipal Court involved a 28-year-old from Stow. He witnessed another driver cut in front of him, hit a camper truck and keeping on going. So the witness gave chase.

And that led him the wrong way down the one-way street; and when the other driver swerved out of the way of an oncoming car, the witness wound up in a collision.

Judge Manuel M. Rucker, saying that "we ask citizens to become involved," warned the witness "next time be careful to avoid endangering yourself and others."

The witness described himself as "the kind of person that if I see something wrong, I want to do something about it." And he remembered having tried to stop a robbery eight years ago—and being knifed in his efforts.

"People kid me all the time," he added. His name is James Bond.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Even in warm weather my hands become black and blue when I dip them in water. In cold weather it's worse. I've had it for a long time, but now it really worries me.

Mr. J. H. Okla.

Dear Mr. H.:

The first thought that occurs to me is that you may have one of the vascular disorders associated with spasms of the small arteries that go to the hands and feet.

Raynaud's disease is one of the conditions associated with vasospasm of the arteries.

Blanching and blueness of the skin, and numbness and tingling, are characteristic of this condition.

Tobacco may not necessarily be the cause for this constriction of the blood vessels; but certainly adds considerably to the problem. Nicotine constricts the blood vessels, and must be eliminated completely.

Numerous drugs and some surgical procedures are used for advanced cases of conditions similar to and related to Raynaud's.

When I read all the substances that are contained in low calorie drinks I wonder if any of them are dangerous.

Mrs. E. L. Penn.

Middleman Costs Continue To Rise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although farmers have seen prices they get decline sharply in recent months, the reductions are not likely to be passed on fully to consumers because of rising middleman costs, says a top Agriculture Department official.

Don Paarlberg, director of economics for USDA, told Congress Tuesday that many economists are forecasting "further substantial increases" in the level of over-all prices this year. Traditionally, he said, the spread of food prices between farmers and consumers tends to follow the over-all price pattern.

"Because of this relationship and the expected rise in general price level, farm-retail spreads are expected to increase substantially in 1974," Paarlberg told a joint economic subcommittee. "Unless restraint is exercised, the retail cost of market-basket foods may not fully reflect any decrease in returns to farmers that may occur."

In other words, middleman charges for transporting, processing and

Dear Mrs. L.:

You can be certain that the substances they contain and the amounts of these substances have passed the rigid inspection of the Food and Drug Administration.

All the contents are clearly stated on the label. Unless one is sensitive to one of them, I am sure there is no reason for concern.

Can a plastic surgeon accurately predict the exact shape of a nose after the operation? Our daughter would like to have the surgery, but is fearful of the result.

Mrs. H. R. R. Tenn.

Dear Mrs. R.:

Within limits it is possible to anticipate the new anatomical shape of the nose.

It is, however, impossible to predict the exact shape even when a sketch is prepared in advance.

Special problems during the surgery, unusual configuration of the nasal bones, particularly wide bulbous cartilages at the tip of the nose, and the healing capacity of the individual affect the final result.

Modern surgical techniques have improved thousands of noses, and made thousands of people happier.

Counties Eye Child Support

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Counties have been instructed to develop by July 1 better methods for collecting child support payments from absent fathers, the Ohio Department of Welfare said today.

Director Charles W. Bates said last year the state collected $9.9 million in child support payments.

"But there is more child support to be collected, and the Ohio Department of Public Welfare is making a concerted effort to work with the counties in developing and improving their collection programs," Bates said.

A bill pending in the Ohio House would require each county to establish a bureau of support and provide for the county to keep a percentage of support collected on behalf of recipients.

Bates said aggressive pursuit of absent fathers to collect payments would include the use of the Internal Revenue Service, credit bureaus and law enforcement agencies.

Enrollment Rises

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The University of Toledo reports an estimated spring quarter enrollment of 12,974, an increase of 235 students over the same term a year ago.

Drop Charges In Drug Raid; Officers Rapped

OBERLIN, Ohio (AP)—Drug charges against 12 Oberlin College students arrested in a raid on the college campus May 10 have been dropped in Oberlin Municipal Court.

City Manager Thomas Dalton said Saturday that Police Chief Wade Schindler and Sgt. Eugene Barlow had been suspended without pay for 30 days because of their actions during the raid.

Judge Richard Huber dismissed the charges against the 12 Tuesday at the request of Prosecutor John Lawther. The students had pleaded innocent earlier to the more than 70 counts.

Dalton said Schindler and Barlow used "extremely poor judgment" during the raid, when the college switchboard operator was instructed to disconnect telephone lines to three dormitories.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Held At Fairview Church

The annual Mother-Daughter banquet of Fairview United Methodist church was held recently at the Ponderosa Steak House. Door prizes were awarded to Mrs. Carl Guseman, Mrs. Forrest Pearce and Miss Jean Morehead.

The ladies then went to the Lancaster High School to see the inspiring "The Thief in the Night."

Also attending were: Mrs. David Morehead and Joan, Mrs. George Weller, Mrs. Richard Morehead, Mrs. Don Frazier, Mrs. Gene Garrett and Mary Ann, Mrs. Scott Halterman, Mrs. Charles Hemming, Mrs. Jerry Good, Vicki and Ronda.

Mrs. Ronnie Sowers and Vicki, the Misses Tammy and Robin Guseman, Mrs. F. H. Wolford, Mrs. Denver Winland, Mrs. John Winland, Mrs. Ed Stebleton Sr. and Jill, Miss Pam Thresher, Mrs. Ed Stebleton Jr., Mrs. James Stebleton, Mrs. David Woltz, Mrs. Charles Gerken, Mrs. Michael Stebleton, Mrs. William Griffith and Mrs. Roy Wilson.

Garden Club Plans Spring Flower Show

Logan Elm Garden Club held its May meeting recently in the home of Mrs. Pryor Harmount with nine members and one guest, Mrs. Harry Wright, present. The hostess read from Isaiah, chapter 26 and a prayer.

Roll call was answered by naming the birds we have now. A report on the trip to German Village was given. Six members attended the Regional meeting which was held at Good Shepherd United Methodist Church with Mrs. Quinton Elder making driftwood arrangements.

The Spring Flower Show was discussed. Derby Club will host the June 12th program at Derby Church. Registration and flower show entries are to be made from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. Each club is to take two door prizes and bring plants for a plant sale. Logan Elm will be in charge of the sale. Luncheon reservations are to be made with Mrs. Richard McPherson Route 3, Circleville by June 10.

Mrs. Bruce L. Palmer of Canal Winchester will present the program on African Violets. A question and answer period will follow.

The chance gift was sent by Mrs. Paul Bower and won by Mrs. Corilla Pontius. Next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Dorothy List.

Mrs. William Cox Speaker For Lions Auxiliary

Mrs. William Cox was guest speaker for the Monday evening dinner meeting of Lions Auxiliary at Wardell's Party Home.

Mrs. Frank Woodward presided over the business meeting. The club voted to sponsor two youths in the YMCA for this year. It was also decided to cancel the June meeting as they will be guests of the Lions Club that month. A steak fry will be held in July for the final meeting until fall.

Officers for 1974-75 are: Mrs. Gary Sims, president; Mrs. Gail Wolfe, vice president; Mrs. Richard Wilson, second vice president; Mrs. Albert Schuman, secretary; Mrs. Garold Crites, treasurer and Mrs. Donald Flanders, tail twister.

The raffle prize, donated by Mrs. Samuel Cook, was won by Mrs. George Mallett.

Mrs. Cox told of her experience living in Spain for three and a-half years. She showed slides of the country and its people. Facts were given about the way of life of the people which a tourist would not learn. Everyone must work in Spain and there is no welfare. The people were either very rich or very poor.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Fred Howell and Mrs. Kenneth Fausnaugh.

Guild 16 Ends Regular Season With Luncheon

Miss Marie Hamilton and Mrs. Hershel Hill entertained Berger Hospital Guild 16 to a luncheon recently at the Ashville Coffee Shop. Fifteen members including a guest, Mrs. Sewell Dunton, were present. Two new members, Mrs. Mildred Dowden and Mrs. Marjory Cutler, were welcomed into the guild.

After a short business session was conducted, cards were played with prizes awarded to Mrs. Jane Southward, Miss Reba Lee, Mrs. Dunton and Mrs. Ellen West.

This was the last meeting until September. A picnic is planned to be held at the Holderman cottage in June.

Family Dinner

Veal chops, tomato sauce, shell macaroni, peas, cake with butterscotch sauce.

Butterscotch Sauce

Good way to use leftover fruit syrup.
¾ cup firmly packed light brown sugar

¾ cup peach syrup, from peaches canned in heavy syrup

1 teaspoon grated lemon rind

1 tablespoon lemon juice

2 tablespoons cornstarch stirred until smooth with 2 tablespoons cold water

Pinch of salt

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

In a 1-quart saucepan over low heat stir together the sugar and peach syrup until sugar dissolves. Add lemon rind, lemon juice, cornstarch mixture and salt; cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened, clear and boiling. Off heat, stir in the butter until melted. Makes about 1½ cups — 6 servings. Serve warm over white or yellow cake squares.

All children are to meet at the Village Church at 9 a.m. each day for the opening session. After the opening session is completed the classes will then go to the designated church as follows: Nursey and kindergarten at the Village Church; grades 1-2-3-4 at the Zion United Methodist Church and grades 5-6-7-8 at the First English Lutheran Church.

All children in the community are most welcome to attend.

The Department of Defense, created Sept. 18, 1947, consolidated the Navy, Army and Air Force into a single department.

Watergate Mars Party For Pat

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was to be for Pat Nixon a pleasant occasion, "A Day in the Country," as the congressional and Cabinet wives called their annual Congressional Club luncheon for the first lady.

But as so often happens these days in Washington, the subject of Watergate came up. And Mrs. Nixon bristled.

"Yes," she said tersely when asked if she has read the edited transcripts of her husband's Watergate conversations. "I did. It takes 9 to 12 hours. You can't just read excerpts."

Then she turned to the reporter questioning her during the luncheon at the Shoreham Americana Hotel and asked if she had read the entire volume.

"Only about 300 pages," came the reply.

"When you've read it all come back," Mrs. Nixon said, turning away.

To another reporter who asked the first lady for a reaction to the edited transcripts, Mrs. Nixon snapped, "Now look, this isn't a press conference. This is a party. If you want, ask the people here who have worked so hard on all of this so it will get in the newspapers."

Then she turned to the chairman of the luncheon, Mrs. Ruth Thone, who was trying to shield Mrs. Nixon from reporters' questions, and said, "I don't think it's fair to take the limelight away from all those who have worked so hard."

Later, Mrs. Nixon made a veiled reference to her husband's Watergate troubles when she said to the more than 1,000 women who gave her two standing ovations, "You're my best friends. Your words, like in 'I love you,' 'we support you,' they cheer me up. These are the things that give you the chance to fight for what's right. And that's what we're doing."

"It's a difficult time for her," said Helen Smith, Mrs. Nixon's press secretary. "She says she doesn't want to talk about these things because she wants to focus on the positive." Mrs. Smith said she does not think the first lady has listened to the actual tapes from which the transcripts were made.

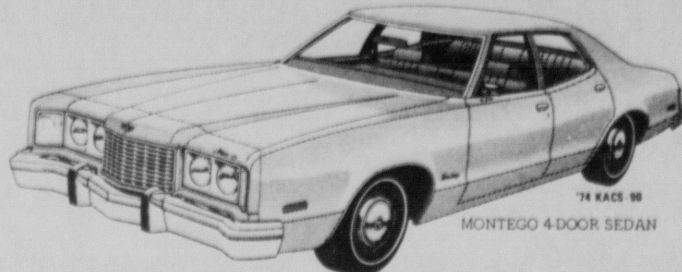

It hurt Mrs. Nixon to see her daughter Julie and her husband David Eisenhower hold a press conference May 11 to defend her father's innocence in the Watergate scandal, Mrs. Smith said.

Grange News

SALT CREEK VALLEY GRANGE
Saltcreek Valley Grange welcomed Mrs. Margaret Ater, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Dutcher, and Ron Chesser as new members in the organization after they completed the degrees given by the local grange body.

The Third and Fourth Degrees were presented to the class by a team conducted by Don DeLong.

Following the degree presentation and the business meeting the grange members enjoyed a birthday party for all members born in February, March, April and May.

Upcoming events include preparation of the meal for the Saltcreek Alumni Banquet on June 1, participation in the Pomona Grange Bazaar on June 15, and hosting Scioto Valley Grange on June 18 when they visit Saltcreek Grange to present the literary program.

Plans were begun for the 25th year celebration to be on July 2, with the lecturer, Paul Dunkle in charge. At this meeting many of the members will be presented with certificates and pins from the Ohio State Grange and the National Grange.

Refreshments for the next meeting will be provided by the past annual lunch committee, this meeting will be on June 4, beginning at 8 p.m.

Cat Rescue Proves Flop

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The 19-year-old son of a Cincinnati fire captain tried to follow in his father's footsteps but had to be rescued from a tree by firemen in a rainstorm.

Stephen Marshall, son of Capt. Jack Marshall, heard a local radio station plea from Rocco DeCiccio that his 2-year-old cat, "Min," was stranded high in a tree.

Young Marshall, a parttime roofer, drove to the location and had climbed up 40 feet "when I froze." The cat was 15 feet higher and out on a limb.

The first arriving firemen didn't have a long enough ladder and had to call for help. Marshall was brought down by the second company.

The cat? Firemen left her in the tree. "We rescue people who try to rescue cats," said Capt. Donald Budde, "but we don't rescue cats. It's against regulations."

GTE Trains Repairman

Donald E. Noble of 139 Hayward, an installer repairman, has received a certificate for completing a course in basic electricity at General Telephone Co. of Ohio's Technical Training School in Marion.

A graduate of Miami Trace High School, Washington C. H., Noble has been with the company three years. He works in the company's Circleville district.

broke the camel's back," said J. Phillip Richley, director of Ohio Department of Transportation.

Richley said a number of factors, including inflation, contributed to the situation which has caused a 24 per cent drop in state highway construction projects over the past four years.

But the Ohio Contractors Association (OCA) isn't satisfied with Richley's explanation for the cutbacks.

"The state's highway construction program has been reduced drastically for the last two years and the unemployment rate is very high in the industry," the OCA said in a statement Wednesday.

Karl L. Rothermund, Jr., OCA executive vice president, accused the state officials of using the energy crisis as a "scapegoat."

"The delay of construction projects is caused by the decision at the state level to permit inadequate road financing to occur...and was clearly avoidable," Rothermund said.

Richley admits the department had foreknowledge of some financial difficulty, but was unable to increase revenues to face it.

"Gov. John J. Gilligan has an avowed policy against tax increases," Richley said, "so we had to live within our budget."

The transportation chief said the states embark on only the most heavily federally funded projects, but Ohio has already used up its federal money for this fiscal year.

Rethermund maintained however, that the state is out of money to improve roads because its cost of maintenance and payroll have skyrocketed and over $18 million annually is taken from gasoline tax receipts to subsidize the Department of Highway Safety.

Meanwhile, the OCA announced wage agreements with four unions covering some 30,000 workers in heavy, municipal and utility construction.

Agreements were reached under terms of wage opener clauses with the Ohio Laborers' District Council, Cement Masons and Bricklayers International Union, Ohio Conference of Teamsters and Local 18, Operating Engineers Union.

Charles W. Rinehart, OCA Industrial relations director, said the wage increases range from 5 to 8 per cent, effective May 1974, and amount to hourly wage-packages of 30 to 70 cents per hour for Operating Engineers, and 60 cents per hour for the Teamsters, Cement Masons and Laborers.

Supplemental Income Program Praised

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Praising the new Supplemental Security Income program as the most advanced piece of legislation since Social Security, U.S. Commissioner on Aging Arthur S. Flemming said there still are millions not receiving it.

Flemming told the National Conference on Social Welfare here Tuesday that millions of aged, blind and disabled are "so isolated" they are totally unaware of SSI.

SSI replaces Aid to the Aged, Aid to the Disabled and Aid to the Blind programs formerly administered by the states. It establishes an income of $140 a month for persons in these categories.

Flemming said many volunteer groups now are helping ferret out those eligible as projects. In addition, many state agencies are doing the same.

He had praise for the volunteers in "SSI Alert," the leading volunteer group in this category.

Flemming said he is convinced that the more citizens who know of these problems the more they will support programs for the needy. He said his agency is doing "everything possible" to develop a strong network of state and area agencies to work as advocates for older persons.

Douglas Fraser, vice president of the United Auto Workers, speaking earlier at a news conference, called for public works programs to employ persons laid off because of the energy crisis and endorsed mass transit systems.

"Very few of the workers laid off in January have been called back to work," he said, "nor is it likely they will until the beginning of the new

Urge Help For Senior Citizens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. Department of Labor official has urged delegates to the Governor's conference on Aging to organize and use political muscle to advance the situation of senior citizens.

Charles Odell, former director of the older and retired workers program of the United Auto Workers, told conferees Wednesday that "an organized coalition can be heard widely at the ballot box."

Conference delegates agreed informally to form a coalition to lobby in the Ohio General Assembly.

The 400 delegates approved a host of formal resolutions including:

- A request for $10 million in interest-free loans for grants to older people for home rehabilitation.
- Support for a bill setting aside $4.2 million for free transportation for the elderly and urging allocation of funds for rural transportation for older people.
- Support for bills allowing use of county funds for senior citizens' programs, establishing a state housing finance agency and defining landlord tenant rights.
- A request to the federal government to lift its freeze on federal housing funds.

Earlier Wednesday, Gov. John J. Gilligan told about 3,000 people attending the conference that the failure to utilize the talents, experience, and creativity of senior citizens "has resulted in the loss of opportunity no amount of money will ever restore."

chestrated," Strauss said in a speech to a small gathering of Ohio Democrats here.

Strauss said Ford is being orchestrated "on the one hand by those who advise him, and on the other, by the White House; each going in different directions, each getting him to spout the line of the day and forgetting the line of yesterday."

For example, Strauss said, four weeks ago Ford labeled the U.S. House of Representatives a "do-nothing Congress."

"This week he's running about talking about a legislative dictatorship," said Strauss.

"In 1972 he was campaigning for a Congress that would give its total support to the President while today he worries about one that might be veto-proof," said Strauss.

"And just 24 hours ago, in a quiet meeting with former members of Congress, he had the nerve to say to them that he has more respect for the Congress today than he did when he served in it. What line will we hear from the Vice President tomorrow?" asked Strauss.

Ford relinquished his Republican congressional seat in Michigan when he was picked as vice president.

Strauss also reiterated to the seminar of Ohio Democrats who are seeking congressional seats that there should be no call for the President to resign over Watergate.

"Let's not call for the resignation of Richard; let's press for a fair and honorable and lawful constitutional response to this whole mess and let the system respond," declared Strauss.

"For those in our country who would call for Richard Nixon's resignation, let's remember what Richard Nixon was, and did when he perceived himself to be a hero," said Strauss.

"What horrors await us if he is allowed to portray himself as a martyr!"

Strauss urged the candidates to talk about issues that he said are on the minds of Americans — inflation, education, unemployment, pension reform and national health insurance.

"They are not going to elect us if we run around the country yelling 'Watergate, Watergate, Watergate,'" said Strauss.

He said that the Nixon administration has so neglected the gut problems of America "that who in the hell needs Watergate?"

Brooke Sees Nixon Losing Effectiveness

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Edward Brooke said there is increasing evidence that Soviet leaders may doubt President Nixon's ability to make agreements that will be supported by the U.S. Congress and the American people.

The Massachusetts Republican said in a lecture at the University of Akron Wednesday night that the President's scheduled trip to Moscow in June may be viewed as a "cynical attempt to cloud the impeachment issue."

Brooke said Soviet leaders may be unwilling to deal with Nixon on substantive issues during his Moscow visit.

"If this were the case, a summit meeting would be nothing more than a hollow shell, devoid of substantive purpose," Brooke said.

Brooke said it would be "certainly demeaning to the office of the presidency, particularly if President Nixon were perceived by others to be going to Moscow in quest of the Kremlin's help to bolster his image at home."

The senator said again that the nation would be better off if Nixon resigned.

Brooke said "confidence in American leadership is based on a president's ability to mobilize support at home and abroad. When that ability is seriously impaired, confidence wanes."

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Dennis Purcell, 23, of suburban Cheviot, who already had been fined $100 for running onto the field at Riverfront Stadium May 7 and interrupting a Cincinnati Reds baseball game, was convicted of resisting arrest Wednesday in connection with the same incident.

Purcell was fined another $50. Police said the man was unable to pay the fine and is serving it out in jail.

MRS. JOE JENKINS — 474-5542

The King's Helpers Class of the Methodist Church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spung on Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Final plans are being made for the Vacation Bible school, to be held at the United Methodist Church, on June 17 - 21 and 24 - 26, from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m.

All young people of the community are invited to attend, from age three to and including high school youths.

Mrs. John (Rusty) Kerns is the director and anyone wishing to register, may call 474-3514.

The Reverend and Mrs. Carl Wetherell attended a program of music, presented by gospel quartets, at the Veterans' Memorial, on Saturday night as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Millar.

John and Katherine Jinks, Canton, were weekend guests of the Norwood Jinks and the Joe Jenkins.

During the storm on Friday night, a utility pole on Main St. fell, narrowly missing the car and residence of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Hartranft. A large tree in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones fell into their yard, luckily avoiding damage to their home.

Urge Help For Senior Citizens

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A U.S. Department of Labor official has urged delegates to the Governor's conference on Aging to organize and use political muscle to advance the situation of senior citizens.

Charles Odell, former director of the older and retired workers program of the United Auto Workers, told conferees Wednesday that "an organized coalition can be heard widely at the ballot box."

Conference delegates agreed informally to form a coalition to lobby in the Ohio General Assembly.

The 400 delegates approved a host of formal resolutions including:

—A request for $10 million in interest-free loans for grants to older people for home rehabilitation.

—Support for a bill setting aside $4.2 million for free transportation for the elderly and urging allocation of funds for rural transportation for older people.

—Support for bills allowing use of county funds for senior citizens' programs, establishing a state housing finance agency and defining landlord tenant rights.

—A request to the federal government to lift its freeze on federal housing funds.

Earlier Wednesday, Gov. John J. Gilligan told about 3,000 people attending the conference that the failure to utilize the talents, experience, and creativity of senior citizens "has resulted in the loss of opportunity no amount of money will ever restore."

chestrated," Strauss said in a speech to a small gathering of Ohio Democrats here.

Strauss said Ford is being orchestrated "on the one hand by those who advise him, and on the other, by the White House; each going in different directions, each getting him to spout the line of the day and forgetting the line of yesterday."

For example, Strauss said, four weeks ago Ford labeled the U.S. House of Representatives a "do-nothing Congress."

"This week he's running about talking about a legislative dictatorship," said Strauss.

"In 1972 he was campaigning for a Congress that would give its total support to the President while today he worries about one that might be veto-proof," said Strauss.

"And just 24 hours ago, in a quiet meeting with former members of Congress, he had the nerve to say to them that he has more respect for the Congress today than he did when he

Fair Skies Bring Relief To Mid-U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers dampened the East today, while fair skies brought relief to much of the nation's waterlogged midsection.

Rain washed an area from the Ohio Valley to the Middle Atlantic Coast and the coastal sections of New England. Thundershower activity also extended from the Ohio Valley to the Gulf Coast, dumping nearly 2 inches of rain at Knoxville, Tenn., and about 1 inch at Atlanta, Ga.

In the wake of floods that forced hundreds from their homes Wednesday in north-central Illinois, Gov. Daniel Walker asked President Nixon to declare the state a disaster area.

During the night, hail the size of ping pong balls pounded an area in north-central Oklahoma. A tornado was sighted in the same area, but there were no reports of damage or injuries. Elsewhere, light rain developed in the Pacific Northwest and in Southern California.

Generally, skies were clear over the central portion of the nation, partly cloudy in the West and cloudy in the East.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 85 at Blythe, Calif., to 37 at Lewistown, Mont.

served in it. What line will we hear from the Vice President tomorrow?" asked Strauss.

Ford relinquished his Republican congressional seat in Michigan when he was picked as vice president.

Strauss also reiterated to the seminar of Ohio Democrats who are seeking congressional seats that there should be no call for the President to resign over Watergate.

"Let's not call for the resignation of Richard; let's press for a fair and honorable and lawful constitutional response to this whole mess and let the system respond," declared Strauss.

"For those in our country who would call for Richard Nixon's resignation, let's remember what Richard Nixon was, and did when he perceived himself to be a hero," said Strauss. "What horrors await us if he is allowed to portray himself as a martyr!"

Strauss urged the candidates to talk about issues that he said are on the minds of Americans — inflation, education, unemployment, pension reform and national health insurance.

"They are not going to elect us if we run around the country yelling 'Watergate, Watergate, Watergate,'" said Strauss.

He said that the Nixon administration has so neglected the gut problems of America "that who in the hell needs Watergate?"

Brooke Sees Nixon Losing Effectiveness

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Edward Brooke said there is increasing evidence that Soviet leaders may doubt President Nixon's ability to make agreements that will be supported by the U.S. Congress and the American people.

The Massachusetts Republican said in a lecture at the University of Akron Wednesday night that the President's scheduled trip to Moscow in June may be viewed as a "cynical attempt to cloud the impeachment issue."

Brooke said Soviet leaders may be unwilling to deal with Nixon on substantive issues during his Moscow visit.

"If this were the case, a summit meeting would be nothing more than a hollow shell, devoid of substantive purpose," Brooke said.

Brooke said it would be "certainly demeaning to the office of the presidency, particularly if President Nixon were perceived by others to be going to Moscow in quest of the Kremlin's help to bolster his image at home."

The senator said again that the nation would be better off if Nixon resigned. Brooke said "confidence in American leadership is based on a president's ability to mobilize support at home and abroad. When that ability is seriously impaired, confidence wanes."

Man Convicted In Field Run

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Dennis Purcell, 23, of suburban Cheviot, who already had been fined $100 for running onto the field at Riverfront Stadium May 7 and interrupting a Cincinnati Reds baseball game, was convicted of resisting arrest Wednesday in connection with the same incident.

Purcell was fined another $50. Police said the man was unable to pay the fine and is serving it out in jail.

Judge Demands Data On Plumbers

WASHINGTON (AP) — New subpoenas for Watergate evidence have been fired at the White House, this time by two former members of President Nixon's inner circle.

The subpoenas were signed by U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard Gesell at the request of lawyers for John D. Ehrlichman, formerly Nixon's chief domestic adviser, and Charles W. Colson, ex-presidential counselor.

Gesell gave the White House until 2 p.m. Friday to respond and said he would grant no more time.

He added that the case might have to

Priest Faces Discipline For Stand

BOSTON (AP) — The Rev. John McLaughlin, the Jesuit priest and presidential aide who recently defended President Nixon's use of profanity, has been called to Boston by his religious superior for "prayer and reflection."

The Rev. Richard T. Cleary, provincial of the Jesuit Fathers of New England, said Wednesday there was a possibility Father McLaughlin could be asked to leave his White House post, or be dismissed from the order, which would not necessarily affect his status as a priest.

Father Cleary, who noted Father McLaughlin was living in the Watergate apartments in Washington, questioned whether the priest was living up to his vows of poverty and obedience.

Father McLaughlin recently spoke out in defense of Nixon, saying he was a great moral leader and that his use of curse words was a necessary release mechanism.

Father Cleary, asked if he would agree with Father McLaughlin's defense of profanity, said, "I would be standing up against Moses if I did ... 'Thou shalt not take the name of thy Lord and God in vain'." He said Father McLaughlin was not speaking for the church.

Father Cleary also said he had no record of Father McLaughlin being given permission to live in the exclusive Watergate apartments.

"Speaking for myself, I would not live there," he said, adding that Jesuits usually are required to live in Jesuit communities.

"I will be asking him to take a brief time away for prayer about his situation and reflection with me," Father Cleary said, adding he was asking Father McLaughlin to come to Boston as "soon as he can get time to do it."

Father Cleary said, "I do not intend to hurt him ... I am not saying he is not in good standing as a Jesuit priest."

Woman Named New Ohio Chief For Consumers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State Commerce Director Dennis Shaul announced Wednesday the appointment of Diane R. Liff, 29, as the new chief of the agency's Consumer Protection Division.

She succeeds Lynne Skilken, who was fired earlier this month in a dispute with Shaul, who contended she didn't spend enough time on the job.

Ms. Liff, who uses that title by preference, has been with the division's civil rights section since 1972. She received her law degree from the University of Chicago and her undergraduate degree from Wooster College.

The appointment is effective June 10.

Thai Premier To Come Back

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Thailand's National Assembly nominated Sanya Thammasak today as the country's new premier, urging him to return to the post from which he resigned two days ago.

Under the Thai constitution, a decision on a new premier will be made by King Bhumipol Adulyadej, but it was thought likely that the king, a long-time associate and personal friend of Sanya, would follow the assembly's recommendation and urge Sanya to form a new government.

Assembly Speaker M.R. Kukrit Pramoj, who had been mentioned as a candidate for the premiership, told newsmen that Sanya was the only seriously debated candidate in a two-hour closed assembly session.

Sohio Awarded $39,000 Damages

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A Butler County Common Pleas Court jury Wednesday awarded Sohio a $39,000 judgement against a Middletown man who accidentally blew up one of their stations.

Police said William Lewis discarded a match while manager Larry Taylor was draining gasoline from Lewis' sports car. The fumes caught fire and destroyed the station and the car Feb. 24, 1973.

The same jury dismissed a cross petition by Lewis against Taylor also charging negligence.

Virginia was named by Sir Walter Raleigh, who fitted out the expedition of 1584, in honor of Queen Elizabeth, the Virgin Queen of England.

be dismissed if the government refuses to turn over evidence deemed necessary for the trial.

"If the court rules that material is relevant to the defense of anyone charged" in the case and are not produced, "the prosecution ends," Gesell said.

The subpoenas include a demand for top secret documents connected with the 1971 Pentagon papers case. They also ask for personal papers left at the White House by Colson and Ehrlichman.

The latest subpoenas were issued in connection with the plumbers case, scheduled for trial in Gesell's court Sept. 9.

Ehrlichman, Colson and three other defendants are charged in the break-in at the California offices of Dr. Lewis

4 Wapakoneta Crossings Blocked

WAPAKONETA, Ohio (AP) — Four crossings in downtown Wapakoneta were blocked Wednesday night when 12 cars of a B&O freight train derailed. Railroad crews worked through the night to clear the wreckage.

Cause of the accident was not determined. No damage estimate was available immediately.

Officials said no one was hurt in the derailment.

Fielding, psychiatrist of Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon papers on U.S. involvement in the Vietnam war.

Among the subpoenaed papers was a damage assessment submitted under seal to the Supreme Court in the Pentagon papers case. Top secret portions of these files have never been publicly disclosed.

Earlier Wednesday, Gesell had said he would not allow the government to withhold material from the trial on a claim of executive privilege.

The White House has retained some of the papers of staffers who left during the Watergate controversy and referred to them as presidential papers.

Ehrlichman and Colson had complained that preparation of their defense was hindered by the fact that access to their papers still at the White House was limited.

"I don't recognize any executive privilege," Gesell said in a hearing on pretrial motions in the case. If anything is relevant and material, it is going to be produced by the United States.

"There is not going to be executive privilege or national security," the judge said. "We must proceed with what is relevant in this case. I am not going to start having a secret trial of public matters."

Nixon has under appeal an order that he turn over tapes subpoenaed by the Watergate special prosecutor's office for the Watergate cover-up trial scheduled to start in another court here Sept. 9.

The subpoena signed at Ehrlichman's request Wednesday asks for his personal papers from January 1971 through April 30, 1973, the date he resigned from the White House staff in the heat of rising Watergate scandals.

A separate subpoena requested by Colson asks for his handwritten notes covering conversations he had with Nixon June 14, 1971, and Sept. 15, 1971. The Fielding break-in occurred Sept. 4, 1971.

Ohio Income Tax Suit Rejected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Franklin County Court of Appeals has refused to declare the state's income tax law unconstitutional in a suit filed by two Medina couples.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tiefel and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carlisle, contended the law discriminates against married taxpayers by denying them the option to file separate returns if they filed a joint federal tax return.

Judge Horace Troop said Tuesday the requirement was irritating, but said declaring the law unconstitutional would be much more disastrous.

Barge Spill Cleaned Up

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Coast Guard reopened the Ohio River to shipping at Cincinnati early today after the river had been closed since early Wednesday evening when a barge rammed into pilings, spilling a large quantity of kerosene.

A second barge in the same tow line and containing 160,000 gallons sulphuric acid sank, but apparently little, if any, of the acid leaked into the water according to port captain Commander Rudy Somer.

The river was reopened about 2:20 a.m., after danger from the kerosene had ended, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Somer was to survey the spill from the air today.

Traffic across the L&N Bridge, connecting Cincinnati with Newport and Covington in Kentucky was stopped for a short time after the accident.

Ohio Youth Killed

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Snuggling down with a really scary story before the lights go out is a childhood tradition. "A Dream of Ghosts" by Frank Bonham tells of Gwen a sprightly, scientific modern girl who is pitted against the local French castle's major tourist attraction—ghosts! The suspense increases as the castle's unpleasant caretaker seems to lend a hand in the accidental imprisonment of his visitors in a coffin.

Terror abounds in the latest monster book, "Great Monsters of the Movies". Bela Lugosi as Dracula and Boris Karloff as the Mummy leer out from the pages in movie stills guaranteed to thrill youngsters.

Could you tempt a child with a book entitled "The Stairs That Kept Going Down?" What is more intriguing than a girl locked behind a secret door hoping to be set free from her kidnappers? This mystery is only fifty pages long.

There is a continuing interest in Nancy Drew stories and we have acquired new copies for all Carolyn Keene fans. And Tom Swift books are also out in bright new editions. We never seem to have enough Alfred Hitchcock for our mystery audience, but we have recently added additional copies of some favorites.

Books of humor have as big a following as our mystery books. A monkey who chases cats and gets dressed up for a wedding party will entertain younger readers. The situations in "A Monkey in the Family" really happened to the author, Mable Bristle.

A revised edition of "Sports Cars" by Robert Jackson shows the sleek racing cars that young men dream of. There are photographs on nearly every page and information telling the characteristics of true sports cars.

Giants in the moving field include the carriers necessary to move spacecraft to the launching pad. "How Does It Get There" is a new book by George Sullivan. Vehicles that travel on a cushion of air are useful in the arctic tundra where roads and railroad tracks are nearly non-existent. Information unavailable elsewhere is now available in one volume.

A large and colorful edition of the "Golden Stallion" is sure to be popular with horse lovers. A popular book for many years, this is an easy version for younger readers.

For fun and adventure try one of the new books in the children's room.

Degree Conferred On K Of C Members

Dr. Arthur Justus and Ed Joyce were among the 27 invited members of the Knights of Columbus to receive their fourth degree.

Dirty Air Statistics Prove Grim

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Grim statistics relating to the uncontrolled use of high-sulfur coal in industry and power plants have been reported to the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) as it studies new air quality standards.

Dr. John Finklea, research center director for the federal EPA, said the junking of national clean air standards could result in 100-250 more deaths a year, more illness among youngsters and severe health problems for older persons.

Although the Ohio EPA has adopted sulfur dioxide limits more strict than federal standards, it is trying to determine what modifications may be needed for the Ohio power industry because of its reliance on high-sulfur coal as a basic fuel to generate electricity.

Finklea said federal studies indicate uncontrolled sulfur dioxide pollution in Ohio could result in:

—Between 250,000 and 400,000 additional "asthmatic episodes" each year, or about two or three additional attacks per asthmatic.

—Acute difficulties during 68 days of the year for older Ohioans with heart or lung diseases.

—An additional 150,000 to 300,000 cases of acute lower respiratory diseases in children ages 12 and under, an increase of about one severe illness each year for every fourth child.

—Symptoms of chronic lung disease developing in an estimated 40,000 to 60,000 Ohioans after several years of uncontrolled sulfate pollution.

Finklea told the EPA the statistics "are not estimates given to you as precise figures, but to give you the magnitude of the health problems with which you are dealing."

Canoe Journey Made By Pair

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP) — Making six miles per hour and stopping at a lot of little towns along the way, two buckskin-clad college students are reenacting a canoe trip down the Ohio River to commemorate Kentucky's first settlers.

Gary Eblen, Frankfort, Ky., and the University of Kentucky, and Steve Blizard, Charlottesville, Va., and the University of Virginia stopped Tuesday at Maysville, Ky., where they were greeted by town officials and the local chamber of commerce.

The pair left Point Pleasant, W. Va., May 16 and hope to arrive at Harrodsburg, Ky., after a 28-day trip in the 17-foot canoe living on dried beef, oats and honey.

Franklin County GOP Chief Elected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus attorney has been elected chairman of the Franklin County Republican Party.

Russell Leach, 51, defeated Michael F. Colley, 50-40, on the second ballot for the post Wednesday night.

Leach's election ended a 37-year reign of father and son, William and William H. Schneider, as county party leaders.

Leach pledged to broaden the party's support in the county by encouraging participation by minority groups and young people.

Revenue Sharing Under Attack

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Detroit community leader has criticized the federal revenue-sharing program for compounding local social ills, since it leaves decisions in the hands of local politicians.

"It's a flop," Frank W. Harris, associate executive of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit told the National Conference on Social Welfare meeting here.

"Local decision-making is very close to the vested interests," Harris said Wednesday.

Charles W. Bowser, executive director of the Philadelphia Urban Coalition, called for stringent federal regulations on the disbursement of revenue sharing to protect the poor, the public, and minority groups.

Ervin Will Speak At Commencement

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate Investigating Committee, will be the commencement speaker at the University of Cincinnati's 155th graduation ceremony June 9.

Ervin, who plans to retire at the end of his current term, will speak on "Integrity in Politics."

Broad Areas Of Agreement Seen On Health Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says there are broad areas of agreement between the Nixon administration and Congress on the essentials of a national health insurance plan.

He told the nation in a radio address Wednesday "a new spirit of compromise and progress is in the air" that may make it possible to enact such a program this year.

Kennedy, D-Mass., said the health insurance bill he is sponsoring with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is better in many respects than the Nixon proposal.

Kennedy's speech was delivered as the Democratic congressional majority's reply to an address on the same subject by Nixon Monday.

The President spoke of compromise, too, but said he would not yield on the basic principles of his plan.

One of the principles, he said, was that the program must operate through private insurance companies and not "a costly, federal-dominated structure."

The Kennedy-Mills plan would be financed through and operated by the Social Security system.

The senator said among its advantages, including elimination of what he described as large profits made by the private companies, coverage of the individual from job to job or between jobs or when he is retired, and a tax that would be higher for persons well-off and lower for the poor.

Kennedy said the basic coverage of hospitalization and physician services in the two bills was about the same.

But his measure contains benefits lacking in the Nixon bill, such as medical care for pregnant women and small children and greater protection against catastrophic illness.

One major hurdle to enactment of a far-reaching national health insurance plan this year is the jammed schedule of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees, which must act on it.

Each panel is holding public hearings on the subject, but they also must consider this year such important measures as tax reform, international trade, tax increases for oil companies and an increase in the national debt limit.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a Finance Committee member, says he sees no chance for enactment of health insurance in 1974 if the House votes to impeach President Nixon and the Senate conducts a trial on the charges.

Irish Strike Continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant extremists continued a paralyzing general strike today, rejecting an apparently major government concession as "a confidence trick."

The provincial executive — the British province's government headed by Brian Faulkner — announced Wednesday it would postpone for at least three years handing over any legislative powers to an all-Irish council.

The strikers fear a strong council would drive Ulster into union with the predominantly Roman Catholic Irish Republic. Faulkner announced a delay in other provisions of the agreement that set up the council.

Britain sent another 500 troops into the embattled province, bringing the strength of its garrison there to 16,500 men.

Four explosions resounded through Protestant areas during the night, and industry and commerce in Belfast continued at a virtual standstill as the strike went into its ninth day. New barricades went up in Protestant areas to replace those torn down by British soldiers.

An explosion wrecked a section of the Belfast-Bangor railroad, apparently the work of Protestant extremists determined to block all transportation except for emergency services.

Authorities warned that all electricity may be cut off in another four days. Supplies are already less than a third of usual, and many areas suffer power cuts of 15 hours a day.

Most gasoline stations were closed. Troughs with cudgels stood guard at others to decide whether or not drivers were "essential users."

A hushed provincial assembly heard Faulkner announce Wednesday that immediate plans for the Council of Ireland were being scaled down to a purely advisory function in view of "continuing violence."

The rest of the package, he said, would wait at least until after the Northern Irish elections due by 1978. A major demand of the Protestant extremists has been for a referendum on the council and the Sunningdale agreement, which established it.

Nixon-Jaworski Dispute Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon always has had trouble getting along with Watergate special prosecutors.

He didn't want one hired in the first place, yielding reluctantly after the scandals forced a staff and Cabinet shakeup.

His firing of Archibald Cox stirred the first serious moves for impeachment.

Now the White House is feuding with Leon Jaworski over who is boss.

During the House impeachment inquiry the President cannot afford any renewal of the crisis that came when Cox went.

Money Floor Vote Set Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Tuesday floor vote has been scheduled on Gov. John J. Gilligan's $13.5 million supplemental appropriations bill that he contends will help meet the state's "human needs" the next fiscal year.

The bill came out of the House Finance Committee on a 15-3 vote Wednesday and then went to the House Rules Committee, which quickly put it on Tuesday's floor agenda.

Democrats on the Finance Committee added some new expenditures, getting the money by cutting Gilligan proposed allocation for the Ohio Development Center from $1.4 million to $830,000 and from some downward estimate of how much it will cost to pay patient workers the minimum wage.

Gilligan had asked $2 million to pay the patient workers at mental institutions the minimum wage but mental health officials said they were revising the costs downward, possibly 50 per cent.

Gilligan hopes to obtain the supplemental money from state lottery revenues. The lottery is expected to begin April 12. The fiscal year begins July 1.

The Senate Finance Committee, meanwhile, began hearings on the GOP $63 million version of supplemental appropriations. They will resume hearing witnesses Tuesday.

James Dayton, legislative auditor for the Senate Republicans, said state collections were running over estimates by $61 million as of the end of April. He was the only witness at the Senate hearing.

Gilligan and his fiscal officers have denied there is any budget surplus, claiming revenues are near the projection of expenses at this point in the two-year biennium.

Under the spending proposal approved by the House Finance Committee, $14.9 million of the money is earmarked as initial payment of Vietnam bonus bonds. Another $12.5 million would go to provide funds for state matching money for vocational education.

Jury Seated For Assault Trial

A jury of 12 was seated in Common Pleas Court this morning to hear a case against John W. Wolfe. Wolfe was indicted for felonious assault.

Seated on the jury were Thomas F. Carter Jr., Delbert L. Hines Jr., Eula Dowden O'Neal, Margaret C. Steele, Clara P. Parmer, Arthur M. Johnson, Raymond V. Frasini, Robert Allen Dennis, Clarabel B. Louis, Iona Lucille Hines, Paul W. Bowman and John Thornton Reber Jr. Alternate juror selected was Cris Cross.

Nixon's spokesmen and lawyer say there has been no consideration of firing Jaworski, although circumstances now are similar to those that led the President to get rid of Cox.

The central issue now, as then, is simple: Can the special prosecutor take the President to court when the President tells him not to?

In each case, the controversy flared over the demands of the prosecutor for access to White House tape recordings the President said he would not yield.

Cox was fired after vowing to press in court for recordings of nine presidential conversations, in defiance of Nixon's instructions to drop the case and settle instead for summaries for the tapes.

But three days later, on Oct. 23, 1973, facing a wave of impeachment demands and an adverse public reaction, the President yielded and agreed to turn over the tapes.

Within a week, arrangements had been made for a new special prosecutor.

Now, up against another tapes controversy with Jaworski, Nixon's lawyers say he is prepared to contest to the Supreme Court a subpoena for recordings of 64 conversations. Jaworski already has won in U.S. District Court.

Jaworski complained there, and to the Senate Judiciary Committee, which backed him, about the contention of the White House that he could not properly pursue the subpoena case in court because it involves a dispute between two officials of the executive branch.

Jaworski said that interpretation of his standing would make a farce out of the special prosecutor's office.

Canoe Journey Made By Pair

RIPLEY, Ohio (AP) — Making six miles per hour and stopping at a lot of little towns along the way, two buckskin-clad college students are reenacting a canoe trip down the Ohio River to commemorate Kentucky's first settlers.

Gary Eblen, Frankfort, Ky., and the University of Kentucky, and Steve Blizzard, Charlottesville, Va., and the University of Virginia stopped Tuesday at Maysville, Ky., where they were greeted by town officials and the local chamber of commerce.

Franklin County GOP Chief Elected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Columbus attorney has been elected chairman of the Franklin County Republican Party.

Russell Leach, 51, defeated Michael F. Colley, 50-40, on the second ballot for the post Wednesday night.

Leach's election ended a 37-year reign of father and son, William and William H. Schneider, as county party leaders. Leach pledged to broaden the party's support in the county by encouraging participation by minority groups and young people.

Revenue Sharing Under Attack

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Detroit community leader has criticized the federal revenue-sharing program for compounding local social ills, since it leaves decisions in the hands of local politicians.

"It's a flop," Frank W. Harris, associate executive of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit told the National Conference on Social Welfare meeting here.

"Local decision-making is very close to the vested interests," Harris said Wednesday.

Charles W. Bowser, executive director of the Philadelphia Urban Coalition, called for stringent federal regulations on the disbursement of revenue sharing to protect the poor, the public, and minority groups.

Ervin Will Speak At Commencement

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — U.S. Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., chairman of the Senate Watergate Investigating Committee, will be the commencement speaker at the University of Cincinnati's 155th graduation ceremony June 9.

Ervin, who plans to retire at the end of his current term, will speak on "Integrity in Politics."

Broad Areas Of Agreement Seen On Health Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy says there are broad areas of agreement between the Nixon administration and Congress on the essentials of a national health insurance plan.

He told the nation in a radio address Wednesday "a new spirit of compromise and progress is in the air" that may make it possible to enact such a program this year.

Kennedy, D-Mass., said the health insurance bill he is sponsoring with Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is better in many respects than the Nixon proposal.

Kennedy's speech was delivered as the Democratic congressional majority's reply to an address on the same subject by Nixon Monday.

The president spoke of compromise, too, but said he would not yield on the basic principles of his plan.

One of the principles, he said, was that the program must operate through private insurance companies and not "a costly, federal-dominated structure."

The Kennedy-Mills plan would be financed through and operated by the Social Security system.

The senator said among its advantages, including elimination of what he described as large profits made by the private companies, coverage of the individual from job to job or between jobs or when he was retired, and a tax that would be higher for persons well-off and lower for the poor.

Kennedy said the basic coverage of hospitalization and physician services in the two bills was about the same.

But his measure contains benefits lacking in the Nixon bill, such as medical care for pregnant women and small children and greater protection against catastrophic illness.

One major hurdle to enactment of a far-reaching national health insurance plan this year is the jammed schedule of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees, which must act on it.

Each panel is holding public hearings on the subject, but they also must consider this year such important measures as tax reform, international trade, tax increases for oil companies and an increase in the national debt limit.

Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., a Finance Committee member, says he sees no chance for enactment of health insurance in 1974 if the House votes to impeach President Nixon and the Senate conducts a trial on the charges.

Irish Strike Continues

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Protestant extremists continued a paralyzing general strike today, rejecting an apparently major government concession as "a confidence trick."

The provincial executive — the British province's government headed by Brian Faulkner — announced Wednesday it would postpone for at least three years handing over any legislative powers to an all-Irish council.

The strikers fear a strong council would drive Ulster into union with the predominantly Roman Catholic Irish Republic. Faulkner announced a delay in other provisions of the agreement that set up the council.

Britain sent another 500 troops into the embattled province, bringing the strength of its garrison there to 16,500 men.

Four explosions resounded through Protestant areas during the night, and industry and commerce in Belfast continued at a virtual standstill as the strike went into its ninth day. New barricades went up in Protestant areas to replace those torn down by British soldiers.

An explosion wrecked a section of the Belfast-Bangor railroad, apparently the work of Protestant extremists determined to block all transportation except for emergency services.

Prep Sports Squad Vie At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An abundance of defending champions has qualified for the Ohio high school track, golf and tennis meets Friday and Saturday at Ohio State.

Track is the pacesetter, especially in Class AAA. Cleveland Glenville, the 1973 team titlist, returns as do nine individual titleholders and two relay champions among the large schools. Glenville, with its defending 880-yard and mile relay units the fastest in the state this spring, rates an excellent chance of winning its sixth track crown in the last nine years in Ohio Stadium. Brookville, the 1973 Class AA track ruler, qualified only one man this time.

Earl Weaver To Manage AL All-Stars

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Earl Weaver has more important things to think about at the moment, but two months from today he'll be managing the American League All-Star team for the fourth time.

The Oriole skipper was named by league president Lee MacPhail Wednesday to direct the American League team in the annual All-Star game against the National League July 23 in Pittsburgh.

He'll replace Dick Williams, who resigned as manager of the Oakland Athletics after they won their second straight pennant and World Series in 1973. The New York Yankees tried to sign Williams, but because he was still under contract with Oakland, the move was disallowed.

Since Baltimore was the runner-up to Oakland, Weaver was named as the replacement for Williams.

Weaver managed the American League in 1970-71-72. He was criticized several times for his pitching selections, notably for leaving relievers off the pitching staff. Shortstop Campy Campaneris of the A's once rapped Weaver for not being used in the game. "Just once," Weaver said, "I'd like to hear someone say 'thanks'."

Although Weaver has directed only one American League victory, the 6-4 decision at Detroit in 1971 is the only loss dealt the National League in the past 11 years. Both losses suffered by Weaver's teams were in extra inning games.

The National League now holds a 25-18 edge in the series which began 1933. There has been one tie.

Mets' manager Yogi Berra will direct the National League team.

Other Class AAA champions back are Brecksville discus thrower Scott Gether, Dayton Wayne pole vaulter Les West, Youngstown Ursuline high hurdler Dave Hodge, Columbus Whitehall high jumper Terry Burris, Brunswick miler Marc Hunter, Bob Lunn, Austintown Fitch two-miler, and Middletown's Marlon Gates in the low hurdles.

A classic duel is shaping up in the pole vault. West won last year with 14-8 while Upper Arlington's Tom Rice, the 1972 champion, also returns. Rice won his title for Columbus Westland, but was hurt last year.

The track meet in Ohio Stadium has a trio of all-sports stars, Stan Johnson of Sandusky, Burris and Fortner.

Johnson, The Associated Press Ohio Class AAA Lineman of the Year in football last fall, won two district crowns last week with 58-4 in the shot put and 171-2½ in the discus.

Burris is a 6-foot-6 all-stater in basketball while Fortner starred as a quarterback in football and started for Clearview's Class A state basketball tournament champions.

Among the contenders for the Class AA team crown are Warrensville Heights, Cleveland Orange, Warren Kennedy, Columbus DeSales and Dayton Jefferson.

Paddy O'Thistle Wins Scioto Feature

Dodgers Defeat Reds, 6-3

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Steve Garvey has the enviable position of batting just behind hot Jim Wynn in the Los Angeles Dodgers' lineup.

It is enviable in that Wynn, a .316 hitter who is leading the majors in home runs with 14 and runs batted in with 41, has also walked 38 times.

"I think so, whether it's consciously or subconsciously," replied Garvey when asked if pitchers tend to bypass Wynn to get to him. "It's probably an ideal situation. I'm bound to get some RBIs."

Garvey has certainly made the most of the situation, driving in 36 runs himself, which ranks just behind Wynn's National League-leading mark. He drove home four more Wednesday night, pacing Los Angeles to a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati as the Dodgers completed a three-game series sweep of the Reds to balloon their Western Division lead to nine games.

The Dodgers nearly made a rout of the Reds Wednesday night, opening 5-0 lead after two innings. Garvey's two-run double in the first started Fred Norman to his fourth loss in seven decisions and then the Los Angeles first baseman finished him off with a basesloaded single in the second. Norman was followed by five other pitchers as the Reds attempted to slow the Dodgers, who have now won 13 of their last 15 games.

The Reds got two runs off winning pitcher Al Downing, 22, when Tony Perez and Merv Rettenmund singled home runs in the third.

When Joe Morgan singled to score pinch hitter Phil Gagliano with Cincinnati's third run in the sixth, Mike Marshall was summoned from the bullpen for the 27th time this season and the sixth time in a row.

He got Johnny Bench to ground into a double play to end the inning and pitched out of another jam in the ninth to earn his fifth save and second in the series.

In the three games, Los Angeles completely manhandled Pete Rose, who fought a constant battle with the fans in the left field pavilion. Rose was 0-for-12 in the three games and only twice managed to hit the ball out of the infield.

Garvey, now hitting .320, which is tops among the regulars, has a two-fold reason for his improvement at the plate.

"The first thing is the opportunity to play regularly," he said, "and the other thing is playing first base. I feel at ease at first base. I know I'm going to play so I go out knowing I can hit. Now I'm adding power and I'm sure that's what they (the Dodgers) want."

Puckett Horse Places At SD

Starlight Mac, owned by Delbert Paul Puckett of New Holland and driven by Wendell Kirk, finished second in the third race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

The brown horse, making its first start of the year, paid $10 and $4.60 to place behind Golden Sovereign.

Fire Fighters Plan Trap, Card Shoot

Indy Court Action Continues

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The winner of the 58th annual Indianapolis 500-mile auto race could be decided, in part, through court action.

Testimony was to resume today in Marion County Superior Court on a lawsuit that sought to reopen qualifications for the Sunday, May 26,

Mid-State Adds Girls, Boys Sports

Three sports have been added to the Mid-State League schedule for next year and girls will get equal billing with boys in the league.

In addition to the traditional sports for boys of football, basketball, baseball, and track, the Mid State League will have competition in golf, wrestling, and cross-country.

Competitive sports for girls will include volleyball, basketball, softball, and track.

The girls league will be divided into divisions similar to those for the freshmen and junior high schools.

Logan Elm will join Amanda-Clearcreek, Fisher Catholic, Fairfield Union, and Berne Union in the southern division and Canal Winchester, Millersport, Pickerington, Bloom-Carroll, and Liberty Union will be in the northern division.

Tournaments will be played in each sport. Trophies similar to those offered boys for varsity sports will be awarded.

The Mid-State League is one of the first to accept girls on an equal basis. The last time girls were included in league competition was in the late 1930s.

Orioles Edge Cleveland

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles used to strike fear into the hearts of their opponents. But Ken Aspromonte, for one, thinks those days are over.

"The Orioles don't impress me as they have in the past," the Cleveland manager said after Baltimore edged the Indians 1-0 Wednesday night on Paul Blair's 12th inning single.

"We have a good, young aggressive club on the way up," Aspromonte said, "and they're on the way down. We're going to give the Orioles a race to the wire...you can count on it. And, I hope we bury them, too."

The Cleveland skipper found it difficult to accept his team's fourth consecutive loss of 1974 to the Orioles, who have won the American League's Eastern Division championship in four of the last five seasons.

Two base running mishaps, one a slip and one a blunder, prevented the Indians from winning in regulation time, adding to Aspromonte's woes. "They're not killing us the way they used to," he said. "They lucked out tonight. All the teams in the division are equal now. The team which puts four good starting pitchers together should win, but I don't see four around on any team."

Ross Grimsley, 5-4, allowed eight hits while pitching the distance for Baltimore. Jim Perry gave up seven hits before retiring after 10 innings, and the loss was tagged on Tom Buskey, 0-2.

NAIA District 22 Stars Are Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Malone placed three players and Rio Grande and Cedarville, two apiece, on the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics District 22 all-star baseball team.

The Malone players are outfielder Bill Clary, pitcher Dan Walker and designated hitter Ed Emrath. Rio Grande landed first baseman Dave Miller and outfielder Rick Roberts, while Cedarville's selection were third baseman Tim Buhr and shortstop Jack Browning.

Also on the team, selected by district coaches, were Findlay second baseman Joe Moore, Defiance outfielder Tom Shaffner, Wilmington catcher Roger Wilson and Ohio Dominican pitcher Dwight Kollmeier.

Prep Sports Squad Vie At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An abundance of defending champions has qualified for the Ohio high school track, golf and tennis meets Friday and Saturday at Ohio State.

Track is the pacesetter, especially in Class AAA. Cleveland Glenview, the 1973 team titlist, returns as do nine individual titleholders and two relay champions among the large schools. Glenview, with its defending 880-yard and mile relay units the fastest in the state this spring, rates an excellent chance of winning its sixth track crown in the last nine years in Ohio Stadium.

Brookville, the 1973 Class AA track ruler, qualified only one man this time.

Earl Weaver To Manage AL All-Stars

BALTIMORE (AP) — Manager Earl Weaver has more important things to think about at the moment, but two months from today he'll be managing the American League All-Star team for the fourth time.

The Oriole skipper was named by league president Lee MacPhail Wednesday to direct the American League team in the annual All-Star game against the National League July 23 in Pittsburgh.

He'll replace Dick Williams, who resigned as manager of the Oakland Athletics after they won their second straight pennant and World Series in 1973. The New York Yankees tried to sign Williams, but because he was still under contract with Oakland, the move was disallowed.

Since Baltimore was the runner-up to Oakland, Weaver was named as the replacement for Williams.

Weaver managed the American League in 1970-71-72. He was criticized several times for his pitching selections, notably for leaving relievers off the pitching staff. Shortstop Campy Campaneris of the A's once rapped Weaver for not being used in the game. "Just once," Weaver said, "I'd like to hear someone say 'thanks'."

Although Weaver has directed only one American League victory, the 6-4 decision at Detroit in 1971 is the only loss dealt the National League in the past 11 years. Both losses suffered by Weaver's teams were in extra inning games.

The National League now holds a 25-18 edge in the series which began 1933. There has been one tie. Mets' manager Yogi Berra will direct the National League team.

Lorain Clearview, the Class A champion last year, has an outside chance again, led by ace high jumper Larry Fortner.

Other Class AAA champions back are Brecksville discus thrower Scott Genter, Dayton Wayne pole vaulter Les West, Youngstown Ursuline high hurdler Dave Hodge, Columbus Whitehall high jumper Terry Burris, Brunswick miler Marc Hunter, Bob Lunn, Austintown Fitch two-miler, and Middletown's Marlon Gates in the low hurdles.

A classic duel is shaping up in the pole vault. West won last year with 14-8 while Upper Arlington's Tom Rice, the 1972 champion, also returns. Rice won his title for Columbus Westland, but was hurt last year.

The track meet in Ohio Stadium has a trio of all-sports stars, Stan Johnson of Sandusky, Burris and Fortner.

Johnson, The Associated Press Ohio Class AAA Lineman of the Year in football last fall, won two district crowns last week with 58-4 in the shot put and 171-2½ in the discus.

Burris is a 6-foot-6 all-stater in basketball while Fortner starred as a quarterback in football and started for Clearview's Class A state basketball tournament champions.

Among the contenders for the Class AA team crown are Warrensville Heights, Cleveland Orange, Warren Kennedy, Columbus DeSales and Dayton Jefferson.

Paddy O'Thistle Wins Scioto Feature

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Paddy O'Thistle captured the featured race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night in a photo finish with Dancing Daphne.

Pacing the mile in 2:07 2-5, the winner paid $7, $4.40 and $2.80. Dancing Daphne returned $6.80 and $3.60 for second and Baron Paul, $3.20 for show. The 5-2 daily double combination of Rich Royal and Maxine Byrd was worth $37.60.

Dizzie Dean Winner Of Lebanon Feature

Dodgers Defeat Reds, 6-3

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Steve Garvey has the enviable position of batting just behind hot Jim Wynn in the Los Angeles Dodgers' lineup.

It is enviable in that Wynn, a .316 hitter who is leading the majors in home runs with 14 and runs batted in with 41, has also walked 38 times. "I think so, whether it's consciously or subconsciously," replied Garvey when asked if pitchers tend to bypass Wynn to get to him. "It's probably an ideal situation. I'm bound to get some RBIs."

Garvey has certainly made the most of the situation, driving in 36 runs himself, which ranks just behind Wynn's National League-leading mark. He drove home four more Wednesday night, pacing Los Angeles to a 6-3 victory over Cincinnati as the Dodgers completed a three-game series sweep of the Reds to balloon their Western Division lead to nine games.

The Dodgers nearly made a rout of the Reds Wednesday night, opening 5-0 lead after two innings. Garvey's two-run double in the first started Fred Norman to his fourth loss in seven decisions and then the Los Angeles first baseman finished him off with a basesloaded single in the second. Norman was followed by five other pitchers as the Reds attempted to slow the Dodgers, who have now won 13 of their last 15 games.

The Reds got two runs off winning pitcher Al Downing, 22, when Tony Perez and Merv Rettenmund singled home runs in the third.

When Joe Morgan singled to score pinch hitter Phil Gagliano with Cincinnati's third run in the sixth, Mike Marshall was summoned from the bullpen for the 27th time this season and the sixth time in a row.

He got Johnny Bench to ground into a double play to end the inning and pitched out of another jam in the ninth to earn his fifth save and second in the series.

In the three games, Los Angeles completely manhandled Pete Rose, who fought a constant battle with the fans in the left field pavilion. Rose was 0-for-12 in the three games and only twice managed to hit the ball out of the infield.

Garvey, now hitting .320, which is tops among the regulars, has a two-fold reason for his improvement at the plate.

"The first thing is the opportunity to play regularly," he said, "and the other thing is playing first base. I feel at ease at first base. I know I'm going to play so I go out knowing I can hit. Now I'm adding power and I'm sure that's what they (the Dodgers) want."

Puckett Horse Places At SD

Starlight Mac, owned by Delbert Paul Puckett of New Holland and driven by Wendell Kirk, finished second in the third race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

The brown horse, making its first start of the year, paid $10 and $4.60 to place behind Golden Sovereign.

Indy Court Action Continues

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The winner of the 58th annual Indianapolis 500-mile auto race could be decided, in part, through court action.

Testimony was to resume today in Marion County Superior Court on a lawsuit that sought to reopen qualifications for the Sunday, May 26,

Mid-State Adds Girls, Boys Sports

Three sports have been added to the Mid-State League schedule for next year and girls will get equal billing with boys in the league.

In addition to the traditional sports for boys of football, basketball, baseball, and track, the Mid State League will have competition in golf, wrestling, and cross-country.

Competitive sports for girls will include volleyball, basketball, softball, and track.

The girls league will be divided into divisions similar to those for the freshmen and junior high schools.

Logan Elm will join Amanda-Clearcreek, Fisher Catholic, Fairfield Union, and Berne Union in the southern division and Canal Winchester, Millersport, Pickerington, Bloom-Carroll, and Liberty Union will be in the northern division.

Tournaments will be played in each sport. Trophies similar to those offered boys for varsity sports will be awarded.

The Mid-State League is one of the first to accept girls on an equal basis. The last time girls were included in league competition was in the late 1930s.

Orioles Edge Cleveland

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles used to strike fear into the hearts of their opponents. But Ken Aspromonte, for one, thinks those days are over.

"The Orioles don't impress me as they have in the past," the Cleveland manager said after Baltimore edged the Indians 1-0 Wednesday night on Paul Blair's 12th inning single.

"We have a good, young aggressive club on the way up," Aspromonte said, "and they're on the way down. We're going to give the Orioles a race to the wire... you can count on it. And, I hope we bury them, too."

The Cleveland skipper found it difficult to accept his team's fourth consecutive loss of 1974 to the Orioles, who have won the American League's Eastern Division championship in four of the last five seasons.

Two base running mishaps, one a slip and one a blunder, prevented the Indians from winning in regulation time, adding to Aspromonte's woes. "They're not killing us the way they used to," he said. "They lucked out tonight. All the teams in the division are equal now. The team which puts four good starting pitchers together should win, but I don't see four around on any team."

Ross Grimsley, 5-4, allowed eight hits while pitching the distance for Baltimore. Jim Perry gave up seven hits before retiring after 10 innings, and the loss was tagged on Tom Buskey, 0-2.

NAIA District 22 Stars Are Selected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Malone placed three players and Rio Grande and Cedarville, two apiece, on the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics District 22 all-star baseball team.

The Malone players are outfielder Bill Clary, pitcher Dan Walker and designated hitter Ed Emrath. Rio Grande landed first baseman Dave Miller and outfielder Rick Roberts, while Cedarville's selection were third baseman Tim Buhr and shortstop Jack Browning.

Also on the team, selected by district coaches, were Findlay second baseman Joe Moore, Defiance outfielder Tom Shaffner, Wilmington catcher Roger Wilson and Ohio Dominican pitcher Dwight Kollmeier.

2 Reservoirs, River Help Anglers

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Two new reservoirs and an old standby river fishing hotspot brighten the angling outlook in northwestern Ohio this season.

White bass are crowding into the Sandusky River at Fremont and excellent populations of other species await the openings May 23 of upground reservoirs at Killdeer Plains in Wyandot County and near Willard in Huron County.

The 285-acre reservoir at Killdeer is unique because it was especially designed to benefit the fishermen, said Darrell Allison, fish management supervisor of Wildlife Dist. 2, which has its headquarters in Findlay.

The two-year-old impoundment was built entirely above ground on the state's Killdeer Plains Wildlife Area south of Upper Sandusky.

Constructed primarily for recreational purposes, it also serves to augment water flow in the nearby Sandusky River and to supply water for agricultural irrigation, Allison said.

Unlike any comparable reservoir in Ohio, the Killdeer impoundment contains 18 especially designed "fish enhancement devices" — limestone and rubber tire reefs scattered over the bottom in waters that average 30-feet deep, he explained.

The reefs offer protection for spawning fish and attract forage species which, in turn, lure larger game fish to the sites, all of which are well-marked for fishermen.

Thoroughly detailed contour maps will be available to the public at the Killdeer management headquarters or from the Findlay district office.

Allison said mail requests will be filled if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to him at 952 Lima Ave., Findlay. The reservoir, closed to fishing since the first stocking two years ago, Allison said, now features a "tremendous number of smallmouth bass," an excellent largemouth bass population, walleyes, bluegills, white crappie, perch, brown bullhead and channel catfish.

Most fish will be small yet, but "there are plenty of them," he reported.

Motors are limited to six horsepower at Killdeer.

Ironically, construction problems at Willard Reservoir three years ago could make for better fishing there than at Killdeer, Allison said.

Minnnows from a nearby stream were pumped into the impoundment when it was filled, but because the reservoir leaked it was not stocked.

Minnnows from a nearby stream were pumped into the impoundment when it was filled, but because the reservoir leaked it was not stocked until a year later, Allison said.

By that time, he said, there was a forage food base established and initial growth of game fish was outstanding. The 300-acre reservoir is located east of Willard off SR 61.

Species of fish there are the same as at Killdeer. Bass populations are excellent and bluegills average eight inches, which Allison described as tremendous for Ohio.

The City of Willard expects to charge for boat launching. Only electric motors are allowed.

May is the month when white bass migrate from Lake Erie up the Sandusky River to Fremont where their upstream movement is blocked by a dam.

Minnnows, leadhead jigs, small spinners—just about any bright flashing lure—will catch whites by the stringfull when the run is at its peak.

Hundreds of fishermen crowd downtown Fremont when conditions of warm weather and normal water levels favor the best fishing.

European Group Bars Tennis Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The dispute between the European tennis federation and the new World Team Tennis league is heating up after announcements that Jimmy Connors and Evonne Goolagong, two of WTT's big names, will not be permitted to take part in top European events.

"No WTT players will play in tournaments staged by our federations," declared Gianfranco Cameli, secretary of the Italian federation, in announcing Wednesday that Connors, the controversial American ace, is banned from the Italian Open.

"Under no circumstances will Connors be allowed to play in Rome or elsewhere in Italy," said Cameli. "The Italian federation's stand on the WTT has been crystal clear—and we won't budge one single inch."

That stand is to bar players signing contracts with teams in the U.S.-based league from competing on the prestigious European circuit.

Cameli indicated Connors had not submitted a proper application for the Italian Open, but added that was not the primary reason he was being banned.

Miss Goolagong, banned by the French federation from competing in the French Open, plans to go to Paris anyway, according to her manager, Vic Edwards.

"No way I can stop Evonne from going," Edwards said, indicating that the Australian star would have to be told on the court that she can't play in the French Open, the second leg of tennis' Grand Slam. Miss Goolagong won the first leg, the Australian Open, earlier this year. Wimbledon and the U.S. Open at Forest Hills complete the Grand Slam.

MAC Names All-Stars In Baseball

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mid-American Conference coaches have selected a 1974 league all-star baseball team with a composite batting average of .340 and a pitching earned run average of 1.28.

Central Michigan outfielder Terry F. Lynch is the only repeated on the 12-man first team.

A junior from Mount Pleasant, Mich., Lynch won the MAC batting crown for the second straight season with a .378 mark and collected a league-leading 38 runs-batted-in.

Toledo pitcher Roger Coe, a 1972 first team selection, landed a spot on the first unit, as did Miami of Ohio pitcher Jack Kucek and Toledo designated hitter Steve Hall, a pair of second team picks from last spring.

Three Toledo players made the first team. League champion Miami had two selections, as did Ohio University and Central Michigan. Bowling Green, Western and Eastern Michigan each placed one player.

Other first team selections were Ohio catcher Jax Robertson, Toledo first baseman Len Matuszek, Miami second baseman Bro Johnson, Bowling Green third baseman Joe Meyer, Western Michigan shortstop Greg Geyer, outfielders Ken Papes of Central Michigan and Bill Reichel of Eastern Michigan and pitcher Dave Tobik of Ohio.

On the second team were Central Michigan catcher Chuck Cary, Miami first baseman Al Mills, Central Michigan second baseman Al Senchuk, Ohio third baseman Mike Walsh, Miami shortstop Al Bianco, outfielders Dick Selgo of Bowling Green, Gene Ziegler of Miami and John Graziano of Northern Illinois. Western Michigan designated hitter Garry Johnson and pitchers Chris Knapp of Central Michigan, Kip Young of Bowling Green and Gary Wright of Miami.

Braves Turn Back San Francisco, 6-2

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

There were a couple of extra men in blue in San Francisco and Atlanta Braves Manager Eddie Mathews said they gave his club a boost.

Besides the traditional men in blue keeping law and order on the four bases, there was a Burns security guard stationed at each end of the Atlanta dugout, insuring the safety of the new crowned king—home run record holder Henry Aaron.

"They did a good job today. It made a big difference, really helped us," Mathews said Wednesday after the Braves dropped the San Francisco Giants 6-2.

The two guards posted on orders of Giants owner Horace Stoneham, were around to protect Aaron after he was hit on the head by an orange hurled into the Braves dugout Tuesday night.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Chicago Cubs downed the New York Mets 9-6; the Los Angeles Dodgers trimmed the Cincinnati Reds 6-3; the Philadelphia Phillies beat the St. Louis Cardinals 7-1, the Houston Astros Knocked off the San Diego Padres 5-1, and the game between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Montreal Expos was rained out.

Aaron snapped a 1-1 tie with a run-scoring double that triggered a four-run Atlanta outburst in the sixth inning.

Astros 5, Padres 1
Milt May liked his first homer as an Astro so much, he did it again.

May, an off-season acquisition, slammed his first homer for Houston Tuesday night, then slugged a pinch hit grand slam homer Wednesday night with two outs in the bottom of the ninth, giving the Astros their second straight victory after 10 losses in a row.

Cubs 9, Mets 6
Jerry Morales, who drove in three earlier runs with a solo homer and a two-run single, crashed a three-run homer with two out in the ninth inning, lifting Chicago over New York.

Phils 7, Cards 1
Del Unser backed Ron Scheuler's two-hit pitching with three RBIs on a home run and a single, powering Philadelphia past St. Louis.

Lou Brock opened the first with a double for St. Louis, then Scheuler retired the next 11 batters before Jose

Horton, Tigers Top Brewers

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

AP Sports Writer

Willie Horton gave Milwaukee fans mud in their eye Wednesday night because they got beer in his.

The Detroit Tigers' slugging left fielder was the target of some naughty words the previous night when he hit two home runs. Wednesday night he was showered twice with beer after hitting a two-run homer that powered the Tigers to a 6-4 decision over the Brewers.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Baltimore Orioles edged the Cleveland Indians 1-0 in 12 innings, the Boston Red Sox extended their Fenway Park hex over the New York Yankees 6-3, the Oakland A's downed the Minnesota Twins 7-4, the California Angels beat the Kansas City Royals 6-1 and the Chicago White Sox split a doubleheader with the Texas Rangers, winning the opener 6-2 and dropping the nightcap 8-2.

Horton's seventh-inning homer, his 11th of the season, came off rookie Bill Travers and landed in the left field bleachers where, he said, the fans had cursed him a night earlier.

Angels 6, Royals 1

Frank Robinson and Joe Lahoud hit home runs and a controversy over a call on a rundown paved the way for three first-inning runs as California's Bill Singer's pitched a five-hitter. Robinson's homer in the fifth was the 560th of his career and raised his total of extra base hits to 1,132, tying Tris Speaker for seventh place on the all-time list.

Orioles 1, Indians 0

Paul Blair's run-scoring single after Boog Powell's double and an intentional walk to Brooks Robinson drove in the game's only run while Ross Grimsley blanked Cleveland on eight hits.

A's 7, Twins 4

Reggie Jackson drove in five runs with his 13th homer, a double and a single and Joe Rudi socked a tie-breaking two-run triple in the ninth inning.

Red Sox 6, Yankees 3

Cecil Cooper and Bernie Carbo drove in fifth-inning runs as the Red Sox posted their eighth consecutive home victory over the Yankees. Boston has won 17 of 18 Fenway meetings with New York since August 1972.

White Sox 6-2, Rangers 2-8

Texas' Jeff Burroughs, who leads the majors with 45 runs batted in and who homered in the opener, belted a two-run triple in a three-run third inning and Ferguson Jenkins struck out 10 batters in the nightcap for his seventh victory.

Chicago's Jerry Hariston pinch hit an RBI single that ignited a tie-breaking four-run seventh inning in the opener to give Wilbur Wood his fifth straight triumph.

Cruz blasted a solo homer in the fifth. Scheuler struck out four and walked two.

Spinners Top List For Ohio Anglers

By JIM DAUBEL

Written for Associated Press

Ask 10 anglers to name their favorite fishing lures and add up the answers. Odds are the total will be closer to 10 than to one.

That's why it always seems like an exercise in futility to debate the so-called best allround artificial bait.

A friend of mine once tried to end the perennial arguments by polling some of the nation's top fishermen and fishing writers.

The best lure? Spinners, by a narrow margin they said, but even then there was wide disagreement on types, sizes and colors.

A noted Midwestern columnist recently picked his personal "deadly dozen" lures, rating a fly rod popper atop the list. He had to concede, however, that his selections were tailored to bass fishing in lakes, preferably in less than 12 feet of water around shoreline stumps, brush and weeds.

Compelled as I am to give advice, yet aware of the lunacy of picking top tens, let us assume that: 1) you are wondering how to begin filling a tackle box, or 2) you are cleaning out a crowded box and pondering what to retain.

For fishing Ohio waters, my choices would be:

Spinners—You should have small ones for panfish and bass, larger models for bigger species. Among the former, one-eighth to one-quarter ounce Mepps or Rooster Tail brands are hard to beat. Of the latter, try single or twin-bladed safety pin spinners like the Bushwacker, Woolly Bully or Tournament Hawaiian Wiggler.

Worms—six or nine-inch plastic worms are bass killers. Brand names aren't that important, but mix your colors.

Topwater—The Arbogast Jitterbug, Heddon Zara Spook and Heddon Baby Torpedo are my favorites. Select one lure and master it. Every topwater has different action, and with floaters especially the secret is in how they are fished.

Spoons—The weedless Johnson Silver Minnow is in a class by itself for casting in brush. The well-engineered Daredevil has excellent action.

In the miscellaneous category, leadhead jigs come close to being the all-round lure and certain plugs—Rapala or Rebel minnow imitations, for example—bring outstanding results.

Finally, under the heading of "Do as I say, not as I do," is this advice to beginners: Go slow. More fishermen than fish are hooked on fancy lures.

Buy proven baits and if you can't resist the urge to purchase more than one, vary the sizes and colors.

Ashville K Of P Gives Annual Bowling Awards

The annual Ashville Knights of Pythias bowling banquet and award night was held Tuesday in Steele's Tavern with President John Swingle presiding over the business meeting.

It was agreed to return to Circle D Lanes for the 1974-75 season. Officers re-elected were John Swingle; vice president, Paul Welch; secretary, Don Rathburn; and treasurer, Steve Cook.

Awards were made by master of ceremonies Edwin Irwin. They include:

Triplicate patches to Robert Barr and Neil Barr; century patch for bowling a game 100 or more pins above average to Bob Bartholomew; 700 series patch and trophy to Bob Bartholomew;

High game with handicap trophy to John Swingle; other high games were rolled by Larry Dietrich and Bob Bartholomew; high series with handicap award to Doyle Calvert; other high series were rolled by Larry Dietrich and Bob Bartholomew; high scratch game trophy to Chester Gloyd; other high games were rolled by Larry Dietrich and Bob Bartholomew;

High scratch series trophy to Bob Bartholomew with 714, games were 190, 246, and 278 from scratch; other high series to Larry Dietrich and Doyle Calvert; high average trophy to Larry Dietrich with 188; other high averages were Don Rathburn, 179;

Archie Stewart, 179; Rusty Shriver, 179; Doyle Calvert, 178; and Ralph Tigner, 175; most improved belt buckle award to Archie Stewart who improved his average 11 pins over last year.

The league winner trophy was awarded Irwin's Insurance. Team members Doyle Calvert, Ralph Heil, Kenneth Gearhart, and Steve Cline were also given trophies. Bastian's Funeral Home and Cook's Water Boys tied for second place.

Round winner trophies were given Toole's Electric, Cook's Water Boys, and the Viking Dairy Bar teams.

The Don Hedges Memorial Trophy, awarded annually to the bowler honored for loyalty and good sportsmanship, was presented to Bob Barr.

Private Club Set At Arena

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The new Riverfront Coliseum, now under construction, will have a private club called the "Beehive" with closed circuit television for watching hockey and basketball games.

The announcement was made Wednesday by Brian Heekin, president of the corporation which holds a World Hockey Association franchise and part ownership of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association.

Labor Showdown Scheduled Today

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of an opposition faction within the Ohio AFL-CIO exuded confidence Wednesday as their showdown with President Frank W. King approached.

Balloting for the top offices was scheduled for today. Results of the voting were to be announced Friday.

Delegates have nominated 69 candidates for 34 vice president posts, which, with the offices of president and secretary-treasurer, make up the executive board.

The entire board is up for reelection except for two vice presidents who have declined to run.

Milan Marsh, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio State Council of Carpenters, and Warren J. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the state AFL-CIO, lead the dissident ticket.

Nomination of Marsh, who opposes King for the presidency, and Smith, who is seeking re-election, triggered a colorful demonstration Wednesday complete with marching band, drum majorettes and twirling campaign signs.

More than a third of the delegates appeared to join the parade as it wound through the convention hall, spectators said.

"We will return to business as soon as the Ringling Brothers leave the floor," was the response of acting Chairman Charles R. Pinzone, a state AFL-CIO vice president.

Disagreement between King and the Marsh-Smith wing over labor's relations with the Democratic party and especially Gov. John J. Gilligan have split the body's executive board. But Smith, who was believed behind a 50-page attack on King's leadership over the last 10 years circulating among the delegates, refused to be dragged into an open debate with the president.

Charles R. Pancake, an Electrical Workers leader and a King loyalist, tried to start a floor discussion of King's stewardship but was shouted down. It took Marsh's personal intervention to quiet his followers.

Smith and Marsh called a news conference Tuesday to announce they had commitments of enough votes after caucuses of state delegations to insure their ticket's victory.

Want Ticks Collected And Mailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department wants cattle producers to search their animals for ticks and then mail the little creatures to a laboratory in Texas.

Not that USDA is starting a new entomological zoo. It's because one kind of tick threatens to spread cattle tick fever over a large portion of the United States unless the pests are cornered and eliminated.

The department's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service issued this advice Wednesday: "Go catch a cattle tick. Save your cattle ... Look especially on the shoulder and flank areas. And send all ticks to the State-Federal Laboratory, 702, Colorado St., Austin, Tex. 78701."

Cattle fever ticks, which once cost producers $40 million a year in animal losses, were eradicated from the United States in 1943. Some small outbreaks occurred afterward, but the pests remained under control for the most part until August 1972.

At that time, a severe outbreak occurred in the area of Alice, Tex. A federal-state quarantine was imposed and control measures put into effect. No ticks have been found in the area since last February and officials are hopeful the quarantine can be lifted by next fall or sooner.

Although the southern areas are most susceptible to the spread of fever ticks, officials say the pests can be carried into other regions if precautions are not followed.

A permanent quarantine zone or barrier was established in 1941 along a 500-mile front of the Rio Grande to prevent spread of the pests from Mexico.

Teachers OK Pact

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Cincinnati Teachers Association has accepted an 8.25 per cent wage-benefit package as part of a new 30-month contract with the Cincinnati Board of Education.

Giovanni's 1 Blasts 2, 18-5

Giovanni's 1 remained in first place in the slow-pitch league with an 18-5 win over Giovanni's 2.

The team is now 3-0 for the year and tied with Circleville Independent for first place honors.

John Hunt and Gary Francis cracked homeruns for the winners and Francis and Dale Davis had a double.

Giovanni's 2 won the first game of the night by beating Independent Merchants 6-1. John Myers earned the win.

He and Gary Rife went five for six at the plate. Rick Morehart and Rick Vanover each had three hits, and Noel Crawford cracked two doubles.

Mike Sabine went two for two in the first game, Phil Salyers, Jim Kirk, and Randy Downs each had two hits, and Tom Tootle and Keith Archer each had a hit.

Attorney General To Get Election Probe Material

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Accusations of unethical campaign tactics in John Glenn's primary campaign victory over U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, are soon to be in the hands of Ohio's attorney general. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Wednesday he will forward transcripts of two hearings in the case to the attorney general, along with recommendations on points that need further investigation. A spokesman for the attorney general's office said it will be several weeks before a decision is made about possible filing of charges. Wednesday's five-hour hearing again saw conflicting stories regarding the origin of bumper stickers reading "Metzenbaum-Nixon, Tax Consultants" and a letter linking Metzenbaum to Red front groups. Testimony also revealed infighting among Glenn's volunteers in

Group Backs Proposals On Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio College Association Wednesday endorsed 31 recommendations of the Citizens' Task Force on Higher Education to the General Assembly and Ohio Board of Regents. The presidents of most of the 72 private and public colleges and universities, community and technical colleges in the association attended the meeting. The presidents objected to a task force proposal to divide the state into uniform planning regions for post-secondary education. They said the plan would not allow flexibility to adapt to individual problems or areas of study. The group also urged that a task force recommendation for fee reciprocity with Pennsylvania, Michigan and Kentucky be amended to include all surrounding states. The association also suggested limiting a freeze on underclass student fees at public institutions to the 1975-77 biennium saying if the current inflation rate continues, fee increases are inevitable.

Grant Priorities Being Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Ira Whitman, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, has asked U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, to meet with him and U.S. EPA officials to discuss methods of drawing up a grant priority list. Whitman took issue Wednesday with Taft's charges that a federally-required priority list for wastewater construction grants was drawn up politically. He said the Ohio EPA has "worked overtime to compile a fair impartial list of projects and to insure public participation."

Cincinnati Fights Law Nullification

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati City Council Wednesday asked the Ohio House to kill a measure now before it that would nullify the city's new tenant-landlord law. The local ordinance spells out the obligations for each in the rental of property. An amendment to House Bill 796 would nullify the local law, according to Councilman Guy Guckenberger.

An extended forecast gives the probability of generally fair weather in Ohio for Saturday and Sunday, but meanwhile a high pressure area in the west will be moving in to bring partly cloudy skies to the state. Temperatures for the coming holiday weekend are expected to be a little below normal. Afternoon readings Friday and Saturday are forecast in the 60s or low 70s. For tonight, temperatures will be a little lower than Wednesday night, with readings in the 40s and low 50s. Rain tapered off in the state from the northwest Wednesday night following a cold front that moved eastward into the northwestern section of the state. The front is forecast to move beyond Ohio late today. The heaviest amount of rain in Ohio Wednesday and Wednesday night were in the eastern sections. Columbus, Cleveland and Akron had around a half inch of rain. Mansfield and Youngstown reported over three-quarters of an inch.

Lake Erie Problems Pondered

WASHINGTON (AP)—"You can't just pull the plug," an aide to Sen. Robert Taft Jr. said Wednesday in referring to the complexity of the Lake Erie flooding problem. He said a delegation of Ohio city and county officials who met Wednesday with federal officials and Ohio congressmen "were concerned that problems of the lake don't seem to be getting the critical attention this year that they need." "On the other hand," he added, "everyone realizes that there's no easy solution to the flooding problem." The aide said each community presented recommendations and "some were very creative ideas." Local officials were asked to submit their proposals in writing to Ohio's congressional delegation. The meeting was described as "a working session" by an aide to Sen.

Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio. "No real decisions were reached," he said. "Everybody just aired their opinions and gripes." Attending the three-hour session were three congressmen representing Ohio districts along Lake Erie, the state's two senators, and representatives from the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the U.S.-Canadian International Joint Commission and officials from various communities and counties affected by season flooding of the lake.

Attorney General To Get Election Probe Material

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Accusations of unethical campaign tactics in John Glenn's primary campaign victory over U.S. Sen. Howard Metzenbaum, D-Ohio, are soon to be in the hands of Ohio's attorney general.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown said Wednesday he will forward transcripts of two hearings in the case to the attorney general, along with recommendations on points that need further investigation. A spokesman for the attorney general's office said it will be several weeks before a decision is made about possible filing of charges.

Wednesday's five-hour hearing again saw conflicting stories regarding the origin of bumper stickers reading "Metzenbaum-Nixon, Tax Consultants" and a letter linking Metzenbaum to Red front groups.

Testimony also revealed infighting among Glenn's volunteers in Mahoning County and his salaried state staff.

Don L. Hanni Jr. testified at the May 2 hearing that Gary Vigorito, Glenn's northeastern coordinator, delivered several hundred of the bumper stickers to the Youngstown headquarters April 12.

Charges of unethical campaign tactics were raised when Hanni, Glenn's Youngstown coordinator, resigned April 20.

Eight witnesses Wednesday supported Vigorito's earlier testimony that he had not visited Youngstown at all April 12.

One was Douglass Riggs of Waverly who said he'd attended a party that evening with Vigorito in Columbus.

Two other Mahoning County workers later testified, however, that they had seen Vigorito deliver the bumper stickers. Neither could supply an exact date.

Vigorito has denied any knowledge of the materials.

The day's last witness, Frank Gaetano, a Youngstown University student who worked for Glenn, testified that Vigorito had confessed to him, in a telephone call, that he had brought "about 25" of the questionable bumper stickers to Youngstown.

Gaetano said he called Vigorito after the incident appeared in newspapers following the resignations of Hanni and another worker, George Skajjac, from the Glenn campaign.

"I thought they ought to be aware of all the facts in order to formulate a strategy in case Gary were found guilty, they'd want to play down the political impact," Gaetano said.

James Farmakis, another Youngstown volunteer, testified he saw Vigorito deliver a box of the bumper stickers to the headquarters in the trunk of his car.

Group Backs Proposals On Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio College Association Wednesday endorsed 31 recommendations of the Citizens' Task Force on Higher Education to the General Assembly and Ohio Board of Regents.

The presidents of most of the 72 private and public colleges and universities, community and technical colleges in the association attended the meeting.

The presidents objected to a task force proposal to divide the state into uniform planning regions for post-secondary education.

They said the plan would not allow flexibility to adapt to individual problems or areas of study.

The group also urged that a task force recommendation for fee reciprocity with Pennsylvania, Michigan and Kentucky be amended to include all surrounding states.

The association also suggested limiting a freeze on underclass student fees at public institutions to the 1975-77 biennium saying if the current inflation rate continues, fee increases are inevitable.

Grant Priorities Being Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Ira Whitman, director of the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency, has asked U.S. Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, to meet with him and U.S. EPA officials to discuss methods of drawing up a grant priority list.

Whitman took issue Wednesday with Taft's charges that a federally-required priority list for wastewater construction grants was drawn up politically.

He said the Ohio EPA has "worked overtime to compile a fair impartial list of projects and to insure public participation."

Cincinnati Fights Law Nullification

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Cincinnati City Council Wednesday asked the Ohio House to kill a measure now before it that would nullify the city's new tenant-landlord law.

The local ordinance spells out the obligations for each in the rental of property.

An amendment to House Bill 796 would nullify the local law, according to Councilman Guy Guckenberger.

Stamp out bills.

That's just what a bill consolidation loan does. It pays off all your outstanding bills and leaves you with one monthly payment that's lower and lots easier to handle. And a bill consolidation loan can also leave you enough money for that new suit you've put off buying, or an overdue vacation.

If you want to stamp out a few bills, give us a call. For your convenience, we're open week nights and Saturdays, by appointment.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Tootlers' Union Strikes Webs," says the headline in Variety, the show biz bible. Translated, it means the American Federation of Musicians is in a contract dispute with CBS, NBC and ABC.

The tootlers, says an AFM spokesman, have been "withholding their services" from the three networks and some production companies since April 30, when the union's two-year pact with the firms expired.

As millions of "Tonight" show viewers know, it's the reason Johnny Carson hasn't been kidding the boys in the band of late.

They aren't there, but neither are they and their colleagues out picketing in the first AFM strike against the networks since 1968. No strike lines have been set up. The reason, says the AFM spokesman, is that "we're only withholding services for people who do not sign the new contract."

"Now, if an independent producer signs the contract and does his show at a network facility—it happens all the time—we're not going to put up a picket line to keep that guy out of there."

"We want him to use our people under our contracts. We can't put up a picket line only to take it down when he goes in, then put it back up when he leaves. That's ridiculous."

An end to the 24-day-old dispute with the networks isn't in sight, he says. He said joint talks with them broke off shortly before the strike began, none have been held since and none are scheduled. Spokesmen for the networks declined to comment on what AFM says are the key issues in the dispute — a ban on so-called "runaway" overseas recording for certain network shows and "equal pay" provisions.

Regarding the first, the AFM spokesman said the union wants all original scores for domestic shows the networks own or control recorded in either the United States or Canada by the union's members.

However, he said he had no figures on hand to show how much of that recording now is done overseas and whether it has significantly increased in recent years.

The second demand, he said, would require the networks to pay as much as outside producers for musicians' overtime, holiday work, labors on daily shows and for those called on to "double," or play more than one instrument during a show.

The spokesman declined to say how much this would be, but said the networks were given more favorable rates than outside producers during the era of network "house bands," staff musicians who were paid each week whether they played or not.

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Influences mostly auspicious, but accuracy and forethought must spark all decisions, moves. Travel and outdoor interests especially favored.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): You may not be alert to certain trends, not aware of activities "behind the scene" — may just be believing what you wish to. Think again!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Concentrate on substantial and pertinent matters. Avoid unwise involvements and complications, but do not sidestep problems which MUST be handled.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Advancement may be fractional, but remain constant, steady at the wheel. Be sure your energies and talents are directed into constructive channels.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Stellar influences suggest a need for added vigor in your thrust forward, but be careful not to alienate associates. Tendencies toward overaggressiveness prevail.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You may now have the opportunity to advance through a "different" idea. At least, draw up plans — ready to project at the right moment.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Willingness to listen even though you "know the answers" will pay off in unexpected but delightful ways. You can attain new friends, prestige.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): There's a tendency now to take off on tangents or useless ventures if you don't keep your mind on immediate objectives. Let moderation be your keyword.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): There will be more to this day than is obvious at first, so dig deep for hidden treasures, and have faith that you will succeed. Do not let this throw you off balance or offset your innate tolerance and understanding.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Some persons may act in a manner not fully anticipated. Do not let this throw you off balance or offset your innate tolerance and understanding.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Some planetary restrictions. Be cautious in making investments, and DO control emotions. Some situations will call for unusual tact.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): A suggestion to which you have not given much previous thought could, quite unexpectedly, open new doors to progress. Pull it out of your files.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a high order of intellect, an outgoing personality and outstanding versatility. Your talents run the gamut from the stage to the pulpit and fit you for a multiplicity of professions in between. Governed by Mercury, the "messenger of the gods," you could make a notable success of journalism or any of the communications media; could also excel in aviation or any occupation which involves travel. Other fields suited to your talents: literature, playwriting, music, sculpture, research; as an educator or linguist.

You are an idealist and a dreamer, but you are a "doer" too, since the Gemini is never happy unless active. You are the personification of charm and graciousness, but do try to curb a tendency toward hypersensitivity. Birthdate of: Victoria, Queen of England; Arthur Wing Pinero, dramatist.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Willingness to listen even though you "know the answers" will pay off in unexpected but delightful ways. You can attain new friends, prestige.

NEW YORK (AP) — "Tootlers' Union Strikes Webs," says the headline in Variety, the show biz bible. Translated, it means the American Federation of Musicians is in a contract dispute with CBS, NBC and ABC.

The tootlers, says an AFM spokesman, have been "withholding their services" from the three networks and some production companies since April 30, when the union's two-year pact with the firms expired.

As millions of "Tonight" show viewers know, it's the reason Johnny Carson hasn't been kidding the boys in the band of late.

They aren't there, but neither are they and their colleagues out picketing in the first AFM strike against the networks since 1968. No strike lines have been set up.

The reason, says the AFM spokesman, is that "we're only withholding services for people who do not sign the new contract."

"Now, if an independent producer signs the contract and does his show at a network facility—it happens all the time—we're not going to put up a picket line to keep that guy out of there."

"We want him to use our people under our contracts. We can't put up a picket line only to take it down when he goes in, then put it back up when he leaves. That's ridiculous."

An end to the 24-day-old dispute with the networks isn't in sight, he says. He said joint talks with them broke off shortly before the strike began, none have been held since and none are scheduled. Spokesmen for the networks declined to comment on what AFM says are the key issues in the dispute — a ban on so-called "runaway" overseas recording for certain network shows and "equal pay" provisions.

Regarding the first, the AFM spokesman said the union wants all original scores for domestic shows the networks own or control recorded in either the United States or Canada by the union's members.

However, he said he had no figures on hand to show how much of that recording now is done overseas and whether it has significantly increased in recent years.

The second demand, he said, would require the networks to pay as much as outside producers for musicians' overtime, holiday work, labors on daily shows and for those called on to "double," or play more than one instrument during a show.

The spokesman declined to say how much this would be, but said the networks were given more favorable rates than outside producers during the era of network "house bands," staff musicians who were paid each week whether they played or not.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:
A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

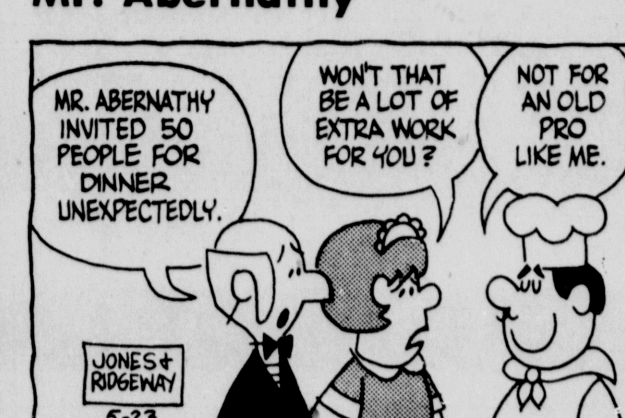

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

SLA Hideouts Tell Tale Of Squalor

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In a trail of cluttered nesting places, the Symbionese Liberation Army left behind signs of a squalid and increasingly spartan existence fed by revolutionary dreams.

For six SLA members, the trail of their hideouts began, and ended, in flames.

The search began after two alleged SLA "soldiers" were arrested Jan. 10 for the murder of a school superintendent. Police say the small terrorist group tried unsuccessfully to burn down a nearby bungalow in suburban Concord that night.

In the smoke-damaged rooms, authorities found a cache of clues about the mysterious group which had claimed responsibility for killing Oakland Schools Supt. Marcus Foster last Nov. 6.

Judging by documents in the house, police say, the SLA had kept busy making surveillance reports on Foster, writing communiques and compiling dossiers on prominent local businessmen for kidnapping warrants. One name found on papers there was that of Patricia Hearst, a college sophomore in nearby Berkeley.

Doors and windows in the house were reinforced with plywood, and baled newspapers were kept nearby for quick barricading. Revolutionary posters adorned many walls.

Beneath a mantle full of books on guerrilla warfare, weaponry and Marxism, the occupants evidently constructed pipebombs and practiced shooting a wall target with an air pistol. Gas masks were kept next to their beds; heavier ammunition was scattered all around.

For recreation, they apparently played rock music on the stereo, and sipped beer or wine. An empty case of plum wine, which the SLA's late leader Donald DeFreeze reportedly favored, was found along with several Molotov cocktails made with the empties.

The cupboards and refrigerator were well stocked with staples and health foods from a Berkeley store. But stacks of dirty dishes overflowed the sink, and bags of garbage spilled across the floor.

Their clothing — mainly Levis, Army fatigue jackets and other military surplus — was haphazardly stored in drawers and closets, or tossed in a corner. "They didn't seem to care much about their material possessions," said Oakland Homicide Sgt. John Agler.

Six days later, on Jan. 16, police reported discovery of a second SLA hideout. The third story Oakland apartment was rented from September through November by a woman calling herself Lynn Ledworth. Police believed her to be the late SLA member Nancy Ling Perry.

Less than six blocks from the Foster assassination site, the apartment was an ideal spot to plot and launch the murder, as well as a good sanctuary later, police said.

The SLA vanished after the Feb. 4 kidnaping of Miss Hearst, reappearing into known public view with the newspaper heiress on April 15 during a $10,690 bank robbery.

During that period, police say SLA members had moved into a rundown apartment building on the edge of San Francisco's Western Addition, a predominantly black neighborhood about 1 1/2 miles from the FBI office here.

During that two-month span, there is evidence that SLA members regularly walked or drove several blocks in the neighborhood to shop at the New Laguna Grocery store.

"Practically all of them were in and out of here, but I didn't know who they were," said Mrs. E. G. Jamerson, the owner. "The girl I thought was Patty was thin and pretty. Beautiful."

"Once I asked her, 'Are you Patty?' but she just smiled and said, 'A lot of folks think that.'"

"They all were very warm and friendly, even the man who asked me for plum wine," she said. "I said, 'Plum wine? I never heard of such a thing.' So he just walked away."

Neighbors, who had been bothered by loud noises from the apartment, said the young occupants departed at the end of April, carrying boxes and clothing on hangers to a station wagon.

In the cockroach-infested apartment, the SLA's seven-headed cobra was emblazoned on the walls along with a revolutionary slogan signed "Tania," Miss Hearst's adopted SLA name.

Documents and a key to the bank robbery getaway car soaked in acid in the bathtub, while piles of clothing, wigs, dresses, women's underwear, gallon wine bottles and a bicycle were strewn about.

Again, the FBI was one step behind. Two days later, in the largely black Bayview District, authorities say the SLA next took shelter in a faded brown stucco building near industrial yards. It was just one block from one of the distribution sites for a $2 million food program set up to help secure Miss Hearst's release.

On May 1, a black woman using the name "M. Jackson" paid $375 cash to rent the place. Neighbors said, however, that three black men in Army jackets also were seen entering. When FBI agents kicked in the door on Monday, they found five dirty mattresses, plum wine bottles, clothing, wigs and beauty aids.

Old newspapers indicated at least some persons had stayed until last Friday, the day six members died in a fiery Los Angeles gun battle.

On May 1, a black woman using the name "M. Jackson" paid $375 cash to rent the place. Neighbors said, however, that three black men in Army jackets also were seen entering. When FBI agents kicked in the door on Monday, they found five dirty mattresses, plum wine bottles, clothing, wigs and beauty aids.

Old newspapers indicated at least some persons had stayed until last Friday, the day six members died in a fiery Los Angeles gun battle.
